STATE GOVTS CAN'T MOVE SC AGAINST PREZ AND GUV ON BILLS, SAYS CENTRE

State governments cannot file such writ petitions by claiming to be a repository of the rights of the people, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta told SC

SC: HOW CAN ASSENT BE WITHHELD FOREVER?

The Supreme Court's five-judge Constitution bench hearing a Presidential Reference seeking clarity on whether timelines could be imposed on the President and governors for deciding on bills passed by the State legislatures, said the term 'as soon as possible' used in Article 200 of the Constitution will serve no purpose if consent is withheld for "eternity"

PREZ, GUV NOT BOUND BY TIMEFRAME: S-G

- Senior advocate Abhishek Singhvi, appearing for Tamil Nadu, said governors and the President are 'titular heads' who have no discretion on executive decision-making, except a very few ones
- S-G Mehta said the Constitution does not envisage judicial directions binding the President or Governors to act within a timeframe

India, Canada thaw as both name envoys

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and Canada on Thursday named senior diplomats Dinesh K Patnaik and Christopher Cooter as their new high commissioners, filling posts that had remained vacant for over 10 months amid one of the most serious diplomatic crises between the two countries.

Patnaik, a 1990-batch Indian Foreign Service officer and currently India's ambassador to Spain, will take up his assignment in Ottawa shortly, the MEA said. Canada's Foreign Minister Anita Anand confirmed the appointment of Cooter as high commissioner to India, calling it an "important step towards restoring necessary diplomatic services to citizens and businesses in both countries."

The appointments mark a cautious step toward normalising ties that had sharply deteriorated following allegations by then Canadian PM Justin Trudeau in September 2023 that Indian government agents were involved in the killing of Khalistani separatist Hardeep Singh Nijjar in Surrey, British Columbia. India had dismissed it as "absurd and politically motivated". In the aftermath, both countries halted trade talks, expelled diplomats, and downgraded the functioning of their missions.

Though Canada follows a 120-day process to finalise the agrément—a formal diplomatic approval process—for incoming foreign envoys, in Patnaik's case, the process was expedited. While the deeper political tensions remain unresolved, the restoration of high-level diplomatic representation suggests both sides are now seeking to stabilise the relationship and move toward normalcy.

Bhagwat clears the air on retiring @ 75

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

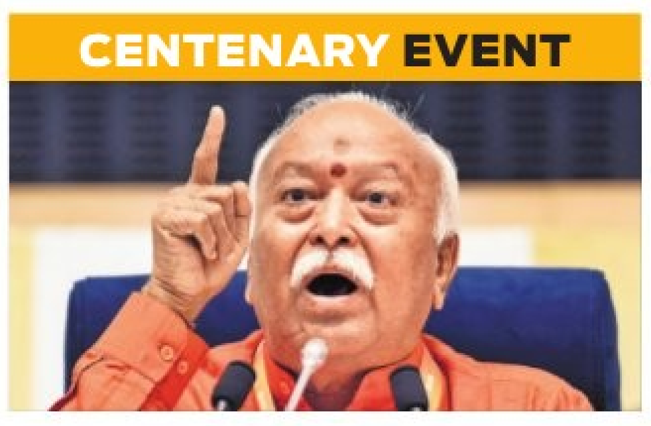
CLEARING the air over his recent remark on retirement at 75, RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat on Thursday said it wasn't aimed at himself or anyone else, alluding to the speculation on Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"I never said that I will retire or someone else should retire... We are ready to retire anytime in life and ready to work for as long as the Sangh wants us to do so," he said on the final day of the Sangh's three-day lecture series to mark the centenary celebrations of the RSS.

Reacting to ongoing attempts to reclaim Hindu sites of worship in Kashi and Mathura, he denied the Sangh's participation in it, but added that its volunteers (swayamsevaks) were free to make their own decisions.

Bhagwat also suggested that every Indian family should have three children to keep the population sufficient and under control. "To keep a civilisation alive, India's population policy suggests 2.1 (average number of children), which basically means three. But resources have to be managed too, so we must restrict it to three," he said.

CENTENARY EVENT



On the issue of Hindu Rashtra, Bhagwat said there is no need to declare Bharat a Hindu Rashtra. "It already is. Rishis and munis have already declared it. It does not need any official proclamation," he said, adding the Sangh cannot change its stance that Hindustan is a Hindu nation.

Addressing concerns over foreign funding, he said that there should be no issue if they are used for service work. "But they should be used for that purpose alone. The problem arises when such funds are used for religious conversions. That is why restrictions became necessary."

Commenting on the language debate, Bhagwat said that all of Bharat's languages are national languages. "All the languages of Bharat are national languages. But, there should be one common link language and it should never be a foreign language."

If Indians don't budge, I don't think President Trump will: Hassett

Trump's top aides double down on India

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

HARDENING their stance against India over New Delhi's energy trade with Russia and refusal to open up its markets for American corporations, US President Donald Trump's two top economic advisers, Kevin Hassett and Peter Navarro, have issued sharp warnings against India.

Hassett, director, National Economic Council, tied Washington's steep tariffs on Indian goods to New Delhi's stance on Russia. "If the Indians don't budge, I don't think President Trump will," he said, calling trade negotiations with India complicated and criticising India's 'intransigence' in opening up markets.

White House Trade Advisor Navarro bluntly accused India of enabling Russia's war. In an interview to Bloomberg, Navarro dubbed the Ukraine conflict 'Modi's war', blaming India for prolonging the fighting by continuing to buy Russian oil.

Peter Navarro

Kevin Hassett

The duo's sharp remarks signal a renewed hardline posture from the Trump administration as it links trade policy with geopolitical alignment.

"This isn't just about trade," Hassett said. "Part of it has been tied to the pressure we've been trying to put on Russia in order to secure a peace deal and save millions of lives. Then there's the Indian intransigence about opening their markets to our products."

Taking a more provocative line, Navarro said: "Everybody in America loses because of what India is doing... Consumers lose, businesses lose, workers lose because of high Indian tariffs. And the taxpayer? They fund Modi's war."

Navarro also lashed out at India's insistence on sovereign decision-making in energy policy, calling it "arrogant," and accused the country of siding with authoritarians. "India, you're the biggest democracy in the world. Act like one. Side with the democracies," he said, lumping India's Russia and China ties into a broader critique of its foreign policy alignment.

TARIFF TRACKER

Talks still on at multiple levels: Govt

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

WITH the 50% tariffs officially coming into force, New Delhi has intensified efforts to mitigate the fallout. According to a senior commerce ministry official, discussions are on with exporters as well as officials of the Trump administration.

"Engagements with exporters are going on. Official-level engagements between the two countries are also on," the official said.

The Prime Minister's Office (PMO), the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), and the Ministry of Commerce are jointly coordinating efforts to cushion the impact on exporters.

> Unwavering and unequivocal support for the government's stance on not yielding to the unreasonable and unethical pressure of the reciprocal tariffs imposed on India by the United States
>
> —Sudhir Sekhri, chairman, AEPC

Speaking to this newspaper, an official said the government is trying to find a way out of the tariff mess and seriously pursuing engagements at multiple levels—diplomatic, political and commercial. The official said the strategies include putting pressure on the Trump administration using the Democrats and businesses there. "Businesses are the ones who are suffering even in the US," said the official.

Meanwhile, separate meetings between ministries and industry representatives are being held. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has initiated dialogues with key trade bodies to address liquidity and financial concerns triggered by the new tariffs. RBI Governor Sanjay Malhotra had earlier promised exporters that all measures would be taken to deal with the emerging situation.

On Thursday, a delegation from the Federation of Indian Export Organisations met Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman. According to the federation, Sitharaman assured them that the government would safeguard workers' livelihoods and urged industry leaders to reassure employees about job continuity despite global turbulence.

Exporters, despite being concerned about the impact on their businesses, have largely backed the government's stance of dealing with tariff pressure from Washington.

CLASS 9 STUDENT DELIVERS BABY IN HOSTEL WASHROOM

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Yadgir, Kalaburagi

A 17-year-old girl studying in Class 9 of a residential school in Shahapur taluk of Yadgir district, delivered a baby boy in the washroom of the hostel on Wednesday. The residential school is run by the social welfare department.

Executive Director of Karnataka Residential Educational Institutions Society Kantharaju suspended two teachers — Narasimha Murthy, the Science teacher, and Sridhar, the physical education teacher, with immediate effect. The suspension order stated that the girl's attendance was only 10 per cent in Class 9, and it was the duty of Narasimha Murthy, as class teacher, to report on her attendance, and Sridhar to report on her physical condition to the principal. As they failed to perform their duties, based on a report by the deputy director of the social welfare department, Murthy and Sridhar have been kept under suspension, the order said.

Police registered an FIR based on a complaint by District Child Protection Officer Nirmala against five persons, including an unknown accused (A1), Geeta Salimani, the warden of the school hostel (A2), school principal Basamma (A3), staff nurse Basamma Patil (A4) and Sharanabasavva for not informing officials about a Class 9 student becoming pregnant.

According to the complainant, the girl was not giving any information about A1.

No place to bury dead, an islet the final resting place

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkamagaluru

AROUND 150 families hailing from Shillekytha fishing community (Scheduled Caste) living at Menasuru Ravuru Camp in NR Pura taluk have no place to bury their dead.

These families have been deprived of a burial ground although they have been living in the camp near the backwaters of the Bhadra river for nearly two decades.

The community members are forced to bury the dead in an islet a few kilometres away from their camp. The body of an aged man, who died on Sunday, was taken to the islet on a coracle to perform the last rites.

One of the community members told TNIE that they struggle to bury the dead during monsoon. "We find water as we start digging a pit. We cover the pit with leaves to prevent water from seeping in before burying the body there. We faced this problem on Sunday too," he said.

A body being ferried to the islet on a coracle in the Bhadra backwaters

"Sometimes, pits are dug in places where bodies were buried earlier. During summer, the Bhadra backwaters recede and the bodies are buried on the shore," he said.

Another member of the community said, "Our appeals to the gram panchayat, taluk administration, local MLA and other elected representatives to provide us houses, electricity, burial ground and other amenities have gone in vain."

Meanwhile, a local leader said members of the Shillekytha fishing community are basically nomads and they won't live in a particular place for long. It is because of this reason that they have been deprived of basic amenities.

Should Bescom look for a pied piper to tackle frequent power cuts?

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU might be in need of a pied piper. Frequent power cuts in the city do not seem to be merely a result of routine maintenance work but a concerted sabotage by a mischief of rats.

Linemen working with the Bangalore Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (Bescom) say they have been coming across numerous instances of rats nibbling on power cables. "Many a time when we open up the ducts we find rats that have been electrocuted. Incidents of rats nibbling upon the wires are on the rise in recent times," said a lineman working near Palace Grounds.

AI-generated image

Another lineman from Nagarbhavi said: "Every time there is a power cut complaint, the first thing we check is if the power line is damaged because of rats. We immediately switch off power supply for a large stretch to ensure there are no untoward incidents and then take up repair works."

As per Bescom data, a total of 7,367.45 km of high tension underground cables have been added to the network in BESCOM limits from July 2019 till July 15, 2025. Also, 6,707.63 km of low tension underground cables have been added in the same period.

CITY HAS BEST TALENT, WEATHER, BUT WORST INFRA: BIOCON CHIEF

Kiran says people struggle with garbage, bad roads; Future is ours to build, says DCM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

"NAMMA Bengaluru has the best talent and the best weather but the worst infrastructure; if we fix garbage debris and roads, we can be among the best cities in the world. GBA has a great opportunity to do this. Let's use collective will to do this," Biotechnology major Biocon chief Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw posted on X, drawing the city administration's attention to pressing issues of the city's worsening infrastructure.

Her note on X on Thursday about Bengaluru's pristine weather, pointed out that at the same time the city is struggling with the issues of garbage and bad roads. She tagged DCM DK Shivakumar and BBMP Chief Commissioner Maheshwar Rao.

It appears that when some BJP leaders lashed out at the Congress government and its GBA concept of splitting the civic body for 'better administration', the government has now found support from the Biocon chief.

Responding to Shaw quickly, Shivakumar, who also the Bengaluru Development Minister, wrote, "Agree with you, @kiranshaw avare, Bengaluru has always had the talent, the weather, and the spirit. What it lacked was political will. That's exactly what we are fixing now."

"From garbage to roads, from debris to planning -- every challenge is being addressed with purpose and urgency. Namma Bengaluru has always stood for innovation, opportunity, and unmatched spirit, and as our city grows and pushes boundaries, my commitment is to ensure our infrastructure and governance act as a catalyst for growth. With Greater Bengaluru Authority, we now have a unique opportunity to transform this vision into reality, and we will deliver," he added.

He stated to citizens, the government, businesses and civil society: "This is the time to come together and shape a new chapter for Namma Bengaluru. The future is ours to build together!"

Shaw has been very vocal about the city's failing infrastructure, and had aired concerns about bad roads in the Bommanahalli stretch of the IT corridor last year and she also asked the BBMP to learn to use the technology used in Electronics City Industrial Township Authority. Following her reactions, the DCM, along with a delegation comprising civic officials and urban experts, visited Shaw at her residence and sought suggestions to fix the city and its image.

K'taka terms UGC's draft regressive, rejects it

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government has opposed the University Grants Commission's (UGC) draft Learning Outcomes-based Curriculum Framework (LOCF) for undergraduate programmes, calling it an attempt to impose ideological content and undermine the federal structure of education.

Higher Education Minister MC Sudhakar on Thursday announced it during the MoU signing ceremony of 68 government first-grade colleges with Board of Apprenticeship Training (BOAT) to impart them with skills needed for careers in emerging sectors.

He announced that the draft would not be accepted, and a committee under the Karnataka Higher Education Council (KHEC) would be set up to examine the proposed framework. The UGC's draft, aligned with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, proposes revisions in nine disciplines and calls for integrating traditional Indian knowledge systems into mainstream teaching. In Commerce and Economics, it suggests studying Ram Rajya alongside CSR and ESG frameworks, while texts like the Upanishads, Mahabharata, and Arthashastra are recommended for lessons on ethics and sustainability. It also proposes electives on VD Savarkar and Deendayal Upadhyaya, with Savarkar's The Indian War of Independence listed as recommended reading — a move critics say could narrow the narrative of India's freedom struggle.

Other proposed changes included Vedic maths, panchanga, muhurta, Saraswati Vandana, and many more. Academics and opposition groups have criticised the framework as "regressive, unscientific, and ideologically biased", claiming that it promotes Hindutva through selective cultural references.

"The UGC is a regulatory body, but this interference in curriculum is unacceptable. In a federal structure, they cannot dictate to states. Education is a concurrent subject, and the Supreme Court has upheld this in earlier cases. At the face of it, we are opposing it," he said.

He termed it as "another attempt by the Centre to centralise education and seed its ideology among students," Sudhakar said. The minister also opposed the High Court order and said: "If we implement the HC order straightaway, nearly 5,500 guest lecturers who lack UGC qualifications will be out of work tomorrow. Many of them have served for 8, 10, or even 15 years. As a responsible government, we must balance ethics and humanity — we cannot simply discard people who have served for years, while at the same time we are also bound to respect the court's judgment."

Meanwhile, Sudhakar said that Karnataka's State Education Policy (SEP), prepared under the chairmanship of economist Prof Sukhadeo Thorat, will soon be presented to the Cabinet. "The CM has received the 500-page comprehensive report. Officials are consolidating its key recommendations, which will be placed before the cabinet shortly," he said.

KIA bags award for accessability initiatives

In a day, 2.19L Idols immersed in city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), which made elaborate arrangements for the immersion of Ganesha idols across its eight zones, witnessed a whopping 2,19,153 idols being immersed on Wednesday.

According to municipal officials, the South Zone clocked the highest number of immersions at 79,030 idols, followed by 60,703 in the West Zone, and 44,000 were in the East Zone.

"The traditional idol immersion spots like Yediyur Lake in the South Zone, Sankey Tank in the West, and Ulsoor Lake in the East, all comprising, reported over 80 per cent of the immersions," said a senior engineer at BBMP South Zone.

He added that this time around, the Palike has taken strict measures to keep a check on banned Plaster of Paris (POP) idols, and had also raided a few locations earlier for the same. The Palike has identified 41 lakes with kalyanis, and also put up 489 mobile immersion tanks at important junctions of each ward for public convenience. It has also taken care of waste management, apart from arranging for barricading and lighting facilities, deploying trained swimmers, cranes, sanitation workers, and other vehicles to transport waste material after the immersion process at all sites.

'Private firms, other agencies damage wires, cables too'

"WIRES and cables are also damaged by private firms, individuals and other government agencies that take up digging work. But the menace of rats and rodents is different. Their population is on the rise in the city and the increasing garbage menace has only made matters worse. This problem is not just limited to areas surrounding restaurants and eateries, but even residential and commercial spaces. They chew up the wires and then the entire line needs to be replaced as quick fix solutions cannot be done," the Bescom officials said, adding that the issue has been brought to the notice of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and the Bangalore Solid Waste Management Limited (BSWML), but little has been done about it.

Bescom Managing Director N Shiva Shankara told TNIE that the issue of rats has been raised by linemen and staffers. "But it is not much. Power cuts are also due to the falling of branches, branches coming into contact with live wires, snapping of transformers because of them being old," he added.

'RCB Cares' to help team connect better with supporters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER being "offline" for nearly three months, the Royal Challengers Bengaluru (RCB) have returned to social media with the launch of a new initiative — RCB Cares.

In a heartfelt note addressed to the "12th Man Army", on Thursday, RCB acknowledged that their absence from social media platforms since June 4 (when the stampede occurred near M Chinnaswamy Stadium during RCB's victory celebrations, killing 11) was not indifference, but a period of grief. "The silence wasn't absence. It was grief," the message read, reflecting on the day that "broke our hearts".

The franchise said it has used the time to "listen, learn, and slowly build something more than just a response". This process has culminated in RCB Cares, which the team described as a platform for meaningful action, shaped in collaboration with its fans.

"We return to this space today, not with celebration but with care. To share. To stand with you. To walk forward, together. To continue being the pride of Karnataka," the statement said.

The initiative aims to strengthen the team's connection with its supporters by creating a community-led space for healing and support. The franchise said that more details about RCB Cares will be shared in the coming days.

29TH August : One way to see into the past, if not to actually go there, is to look at the stars. If you are looking at a distant star then the light which enters your eye set out on its journey thousands, or even tens of thousands, of years ago. If we had sufficiently sophisticated equipment we would be able to analyse such light to see real events which took place before our planet was created!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Sun is still urging you to make the most of social contacts, but already you're moving into a new phase which could last a month and will leave you feeling rather isolated. This is not a bad thing: there'll be moments when you actually want to be alone.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
If a promised move of home or major domestic change is held up over the next six months, the reason is that you should stay where you are and address fundamental questions. It may be that you need to work at a current relationship. Or it possibly that solid repairs and substantial building work are necessary. Which is it to be?

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
I don't think that anyone should tangle with you at the moment. If they do, they must reckon on the fact that you're in a martial mood, and that you will therefore undoubtedly give as good as you get. You are not about to give way gracefully if there's no reason to do so.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Money matters should now be settled, at least as far as the short-term is concerned. You may now like to consider other questions, like where on earth you're going to go on holiday this year, if anywhere. You see, the important connections seem to lie a long way away.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You can make great strides forward at this time. Hopefully, personal matters may be put to one side. In that case, you could direct your thoughts towards the financial situation. There are indeed purchases to be made, but savings seem more perfectly to suit your mood.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your role and purpose must be to renew bonds with individuals who have drifted apart. The chance of a dispute at work can be postponed with some fancy footwork and a few words of reassurance. The fact that a partner may be feeling uncomfortable with current arrangements is enough to encourage you to look at how they can be improved.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Did you know that you have a reputation amongst astrologers for being lazy? Actually, I think you are misunderstood. The fact is that at times like these you quite properly resent tasks which are beneath your dignity. You don't like to waste your talents. It's as simple as that.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your partnerships are not always straightforward. This you know well enough. Your long-term task now is to simplify all family relationships, get down to essentials and strip away the waffle. You might have to wait while a partner gets their act together, though.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Given that you may have to delay decisive moves at home, you may still do your bit to improve your lot. Your strongest emotional contacts are with family members or people you live with and, if you recognise this simple fact, then a number of problems will disappear.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Do get on with plans, proposals and intuitive ideas. If you talk to people today you should find them sympathetic listeners, and this knowledge may encourage you to confide feelings you'd normally keep to yourself. But don't tell them anything that might cause embarrassment.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The heavy hand of Saturn is now a semi-permanent influence on your life, but I must say that it is a very favourable one. It could bring eventual security, even though today you may have doubts over your financial future. You'll get your way through cautious and consistent planning.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Don't hang back or give way to a sudden attack of nerves. You have the chance to push yourself forward and it may be another four weeks before a similar opportunity comes your way. Remember all my past advice about the need to charm other people.

DIGITAL DEMENTIA

DOCS WARN OF WEAK MEMORY IN KIDS DUE TO SMARTPHONE USE

Children find it difficult to concentrate after hours of watching fast-paced content

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

ONCE thought to be an illness of ageing, dementia now has a twin in the digital age. Doctors in the city are pointing to "digital dementia" in children, a condition where the brain's natural ability to build and retain memory is weakening because of constant smartphone use.

Experts note that many children are finding it difficult to stay patient or concentrate on tasks for long, as hours of watching fast-paced content on phones are shortening their attention span. Alongside this, doctors, teachers and parents are observing gaps in recall with children struggling to remember sequences in a story, retain what they study beyond a short period, or connect lessons from one day to the next and even their parent's phone numbers.

Dr Ravi Kumar CP, Consultant, Paediatric Neurology at Aster CMI Hospital pointed out that among children, Digital Dementia is showing up as forgetfulness, poor concentration in school, difficulty retaining information, slower thinking, and even social withdrawal.

"Constant notifications, fast-paced videos, and quick information access train the brain to seek instant gratification rather than deep focus, which further worsens attention and memory. In cities like Bengaluru, where tech exposure is high and digital learning has become common after the pandemic, these patterns are being observed more clearly," Dr Kumar said.

Dr Manoj Kumar Sharma, Professor of Clinical Psychology and Director of the Service for Healthy Use of Technology (SHUT) clinic, explained that children today are being introduced to smartphones at such an early age that their brains are not getting enough opportunity to naturally develop memory skills.

"Memory building is divided into types. The first layer is sensory memory, which comes from direct interaction with the world — touching, seeing, hearing, and experiencing things in real time. When this information is retained for about a day or two, it moves into short-term memory, and with repeated recall or practice, it eventually becomes long-term memory, which is what allows us to remember phone numbers, directions, faces, or even skills for years. But this process requires active engagement. Now, because of constant dependence on phones, that cycle is getting disrupted." Dr Sharma highlighted. For instance, instead of paying attention to what they see or experience, many children simply take a photo or screenshot and then forget about it. They are outsourcing memory to the device rather than exercising their own brain. Over time, this weakens the natural pathways that help information shift from short-term to long-term storage, he added.

Children are increasingly unable to recall their parents' phone numbers, even when travelling along the same route multiple times, they do not remember landmarks and as a result, they are not forming spatial memory or a mental map of their surroundings, Dr Sharma said.

Decision on state police chief soon, AG tells HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday disposed of a public interest litigation questioning the appointment of the in-charge Director General and Inspector General of Police (DG & IGP) after the Advocate General K Shashikiran Shetty informed that UPSC held a meeting to empanel eligible IPS officers for the post of state police chief on August 26 in which chief secretary participated, and the decision would likely be made shortly.

Recording the submission of the Advocate General, a division bench of Chief Justice Vibhu Bakhru and Justice C M Joshi disposed of the petition filed by advocate Sudha Katwa.

Seeking directions to the government and UPSC to make regular appointment to the state police chief post at the earliest as per the guidelines of the apex court, the petitioner challenged the appointment of senior police officer M A Saleem as the incharge DG & IGP.

The petitioner alleged that this appointment was a clear contravention of the binding directives issued by the Supreme Court in Prakash Singh's case in 2006 and subsequent clarifications issued in 2018 and 2019.

Karnataka HC to hear petition challenging Online Gaming Act

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A NEW Delhi-based online gaming company has moved the Karnataka High Court challenging the constitutional validity of the newly enacted Promotion and Regulation of Online Gaming Act, 2025.

By virtue of this Act, the entire skill gaming sector is being shut down, leading to a loss of livelihood of lakhs of employees, loss of investments made over time in this sector, and interference with the free will of players to exercise their right to play games of skill, the petitioners, Head Digital Works Private Limited, and another firm, alleged.

Justice BM Shyam Prasad said the plea will be heard on August 30 when it was mentioned before him by the counsel for the petitioners on Thursday for urgent hearing.

Challenging Sections 2(1)(g), 5, 6, 7 and 9 of the Act, which not only bans even online games of skill like rummy and poker, but also prohibits banks and financial institutions from facilitating financial transactions towards payment for any online money gaming service, and treats violations of the Act as a cognisable and non-bailable criminal offence, the petitioners stated that the Union government had taken a stand before the Madras High Court that states have the exclusive legislative competence to regulate online games of skills besides making a statement before the Lok Sabha on March 26, 2025, that the question of banning online gaming would fall to the domain of the states and outside the purview of the central government.

In the petition filed by Head Digital Works Private Limited, represented by its Chief Executive Officer Siddharth Sharma and Sumeet Singh Nindrajog from Mumbai, it was contended that the Union of India, by virtue of the impugned Act, prohibited and criminalised playing of online games involving stakes of any kind, whether or not such a game is of skill or chance.

It was alleged that the Act in question had been passed without consultation or deliberation. This abrupt action has resulted in the potential disruption of the employment of 606 employees of the petitioner, and crores of rupees in investment in the petitioner company being lost overnight, but also the potential loss of livelihood of over two lakh employees across the sector, and has resulted in the total loss of over Rs 23,400 crore worth of investments.

GOVT MAY TURN TO SCSP/TSP FUNDS TO PAY FOR NEW RECRUITS

Recruitment process to begin soon to implement SC quota

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

WHERE will the money come from? The state government is all set to initiate the recruitment process to fill about 2.76 lakh vacancies in 40 departments as part of implementing internal quota for Scheduled Castes.

The government is likely to turn its eye on the Scheduled Caste Sub-Plan (SCSP) and Tribal Sub Plan (TSP) grants to meet the additional expenditure of over Rs 8,000 to Rs 10,000 crore against the salaries, according to sources.

The state's committed expenditure is also likely to spike. This will leave the government with no option other than cutting down on subsidies to the SC/STs under various departments or delaying the disbursal.

"For instance, the industries department alone has to disburse about Rs 800 crore subsidies under SCSP/TSP," according to a source from the social welfare department. The same would be diverted and used for employees' salaries, alleged a Congress leader hailing from a Dalit community.

The government has earmarked Rs 51,034 crore annually for the Five Guarantees and Rs 42,018 crore is allocated for SCSP/TSP grants in the 2025-26 Budget.

The government is likely to fill the vacancies in a phased manner by recruiting about 25,000 vacancies, to start with, on a priority basis in revenue, health and education sectors, according to sources.

State Government Employees' Association president Shadakshari hoped that the government may take steps to fill about 40,000 vacancies, including in the home department. "The Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DAPR) has yet to lift the ban on recruitment even as the order for the implementation of the internal quota was issued", he said.

Cong MLA's ED custody extended by 6 more days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Special Court for People's Representative extended the Enforcement Directorate (ED) custody of Chitradurga Congress MLA KC Veerendra by another six days. Veerendra was arrested in Gangtok, Sikkim, on Saturday in connection with alleged online and offline betting and money laundering activities. He was produced before a judge on Sunday and was remanded to ED custody for five days. As the MLA's custody ended on Thursday, the ED officials produced him before the court.

Special Public Prosecutor (SPP) for ED requested the court to grant the MLA's custody by another 15 days. The senior advocate representing the MLA , who objected to this, said ED officials had harassed Veerendra without providing any facilities and requested that bail be granted.

The judge instructed the ED to give the accused enough time to sleep, provide him with clean drinking water and medicine. The judge also directed that the MLA be allowed to meet his lawyers for 30 minutes every day.

Veerendra was arrested in connection with alleged online and offline betting and money laundering activities. The ED had carried out searches at 31 locations linked to Veerendra, including six in Chitradurga district, 10 in Bengaluru, eight in Goa, three in Jodhpur, two in Mumbai and one each in Hubballi and Gangtok, for two days. During the raids, officials seized about Rs 1 crore worth of foreign currency, gold ornaments valued at Rs 6 crore, 10 kg of silver articles, Rs 12 crore in cash, and four vehicles, under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002. The search revealed that the accused was running several online betting sites. In addition, 17 bank accounts and two bank lockers were frozen. Several property-related documents belonging to Veerendra's brother, KC Nagaraj, and his son, Prithvi N Raj, were also seized.

CM: Target to disburse ₹28K cr in loans to 37L farmers this fiscal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday said despite NABARD (National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development) reducing the concessional interest rate loan limit from Rs 5,600 crore in the previous fiscal to Rs 3,236.11 crore this year, ie. by 42.21%, Karnataka has achieved 96.07% in loan disbursement to farmers.

Reviewing the progress of the cooperative department at his home office Krishna, he informed that Rs 25,939.09 crore agricultural loans have been disbursed to 29,75,598 farmers in 2024-25.

The state has set a target of disbursing loans of Rs 28,000 crore to 37 lakh farmers in the current fiscal and Rs 8,362.68 crore has been disbursed to 8,69,284 farmers by July-end, he added.

He instructed officials to ensure that farmers get agricultural loans on time. As many as 28,516 cooperative societies in the state are in profit whereas 14,670 societies, including 2,200 milk producer societies, were in loss due to improper loan recovery and steps should be taken to recover the loans, the CM said.

He insisted that the expenditure of milk producer cooperative societies should be monitored. "It is the responsibility of the secretaries of the societies to increase milk production. Action should be taken for the revival of milk producer cooperative societies," he said.

Siddaramaiah asked officials to submit a proposal to fill 126 posts of senior inspectors and 403 posts of inspectors in cooperative societies. He also insisted on speeding up the computerisation of services under the jurisdiction of the Office of the Registrar of Cooperative Societies.

As many as 7,074 pawnbroker institutions and 1,468 chit fund companies in the state are registered under the Karnataka Moneylenders Act, 1961, Karnataka Pawnbrokers' Act, 1961, and Card Funds Act, 1982, and those operating illegally should be regulated, he said.

Sahitya parishat membership

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has given a clear-cut instruction to officials of the cooperation department to take legal action against the cancellation of the membership of the Kannada Sahitya Parishat at a time when the investigation on irregularities is in progress.

"The Deputy Registrar of Cooperative Societies (DRCS) has been investigating the irregularities in the sahitya parishat. While the investigation is under way, complaints have been received that the parishat is cancelling the membership of some members," he noted.

Soujanya's mom wants narco analysis on Dharmasthala complainant-accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mangaluru

IN a renewed appeal for justice in the 2012 rape and murder of 17-year-old Soujanya in Dharmasthala, the victim's mother, Kusumavati, has submitted a formal request to Special Investigation Team (SIT) chief Pranab Mohanty, urging that the witness-complainant-turned-accused in the alleged mass burial case be subjected to a narco analysis test.

Soujanya, a student from Pangala near Dharmasthala, was found assaulted and murdered on October 9, 2012. Even after over a decade, her family says the real perpetrators have yet to be identified and punished.

In her letter to the SIT, Kusumavati pointed out that the complainant, currently under SIT custody, has not disclosed crucial information he is allegedly aware of. She referenced statements made by the complainant's sister, during a National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) hearing held in Ujire earlier this month.

According to Kusumavati, Ratna testified that in 2014, the complainant fled Dharmasthala after facing life threats from a prominent individual connected to the temple over his knowledge of Soujanya's assault and murder. Ratna reportedly stated that this individual warned the complainant that if he ever revealed the names of those involved, he would be hunted down and killed, no matter where he went.

Kusumavati also cited a recent televised interview, aired on August 24, in which the complainant claimed that one Ravi Poojary had disclosed to him the names of those responsible for Soujanya's rape and murder. "He also alleged that Ravi Poojary was later killed by the same individuals after they bribed him and feared exposure. He (complainant) revealed that the location where Soujanya's body was found — Mannasanka — was a place where he had previously buried multiple bodies. This raises serious suspicion that there may have been an attempt to conceal her body as part of a broader criminal cover-up," the petition stated.

The family insisted that a narco-analysis test on the complainant could reveal the full truth behind the incident and potentially expose others involved.

"We still believe that the Karnataka government and SIT will ensure that justice is done," said Kusumavati, expressing hope that the long fight for justice for Soujanya will finally move forward.

Human rights panel registers case against Mattannavar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

ACTING on a complaint by Mandya BJP spokesperson CT Manjunath, the Karnataka State Human Rights Commission has registered a case against activist Girish Mattannavar for allegedly introducing a rowdy-sheeter as a human rights officer during a media interaction.

According to the complaint, Mattannavar presented Madan Bugadi, a resident of Shivashankar Colony Tanda in Old Hubballi, as an officer of the Human Rights Commission. "However, Bugadi is a notorious rowdy-sheeter in Hubballi with several criminal cases registered against him in different police stations. I lodged a complaint with the human rights commission who has now registered a case," said Manjunath.

He said Bugadi has faced charges of murder, attempted murder, extortion, robbery, dacoity, and cattle theft. He was the second accused in the 2017 murder case of Parashuram Doddamani in Kusugal, Hubballi, which allegedly arose out of a dispute over a woman. Although he was acquitted due to lack of evidence, police records continue to list him as a habitual offender involved in cattle thefts and other crimes.

Manjunath pointed out that Bugadi regularly appears in police rowdy parades, including the one held on December 30. He alleged that introducing such an individual as a human rights officer raises suspicions of further unlawful activities. He had urged authorities to initiate strict legal action against both Mattannavar and Madan Bugadi.

Minister slams BJP for politicising issue

Industries Minister MB Patil on Thursday accused BJP leaders of trying to politicise the Dharmasthala issue even after welcoming the decision to form the Special Investigation Team (SIT) to bring out the truth. The minister said the SIT probe has put an end to unnecessary allegations about the place, he added. Patil said the BJP too had suspected that something might have happened in Dharmasthala, and that was the reason they welcomed the formation of the SIT. However, now they are trying to use the issue for political gains, he said, and rejected the BJP's demand that the state government should apologise for constituting the SIT. BJP leaders try to divide people on the basis of caste and religion, he said.

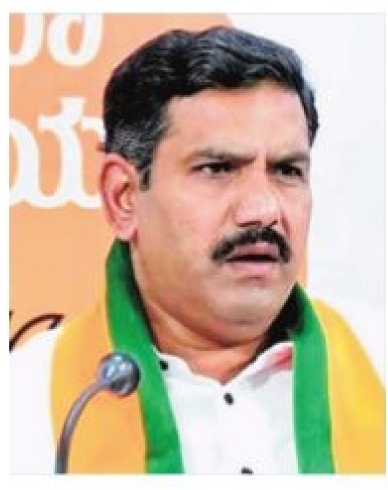
Why no action against YouTubers: BYV

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP state president BY Vijayendra said that despite some YouTubers and social media handles spreading misinformation on the Dharmasthala issue, the State government has not registered even a single FIR against them.

According to Vijayendra, if the accused were Hindu activists posting on social media handles, the government would have registered a case and arrested them within 24 hours. He questioned why the government was differentiating between communities.

In the Dharmasthala case, some people have hurt the religious sentiments of the entire Hindu community, but the government has not filed a case against them. The BJP leader said there is a need to fix a time limit for the probe. "We need to know for how many days this probe will go on. Who are the people behind it, who has paid for this conspiracy, who is spreading misinformation, this has to be probed," Vijayendra said.



Stressing on Suhas Shetty's murder in Mangaluru, Vijayendra said Home Minister G Parameshwara had been to Mangaluru and was to visit Suhas Shetty's house. But after opposition by another community leader, he returned without visiting his house. In every situation, the State government insults the Hindu community, he alleged.

Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka said the so-called progressive people surrounding Chief Minister Siddaramaiah are bringing a bad name to the temple. He said the SIT has spent around Rs 5 crore. "We will protect our religion, we are holding a conference at Dharmasthala on September 1,'' he said.

Chamundi remark: BJP seeks apology from DCM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE BJP has demanded that Deputy CM and KPCC President DK Shivakumar tender an apology to people for stating that Mysuru's Chamundi Hills, which houses the Chamundeswari Temple, is not the property of Hindus alone.

BJP leader R Ashoka speaks to reporters in Bengaluru | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Speaking to reporters on Thursday, Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka said the government has insulted Hindus and Hinduism, be it with the Dharmasthala issue or the Chamundi Temple. "The Mysuru Wadiyars worship Goddess Chamundeshari as their family deity. What is government trying to show by saying that this does not belong only to Hindus. The government will not say mosques or churches belong to everyone, but stresses that Hindu temples belong to all. They should apologise," he said.

Pointing to late poet Nisar Ahmed who wrote the Nityotsava poem referring to Kannada as mother, Ashoka said there is no comparison between Booker winner Banu Mustaq and Nisar Ahmed. "Nisar never spoke to about Hindu religion. When Banu was invited for Dasara festival, they say Chamundeshwari is inviting Banu, but will any mosque invite her?'' he said.

BJP state president BY Vijayendra demanded that Shivakumar take his words back. "Shivakumar is trying to please the Gandhi family as he is eying to become chief minister. His statement on Chamundi Temple is nothing but an insult to the entire Hindu community," he said. "Why did the government invite only Banu Mustaq who won the Booker prize. Deepa Bhasti also co-winner of the prize. Why did the government not invite her?"

No objection to Banu: HDK

Former CM and Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy said he has no objection to writer Banu Mushtaq being invited for the Dasara inauguration. "Some are speaking with arrogance. There was no need for make this a religious issue," he said.

PRAMODA FLAGS 'INSENSITIVE' STATEMENTS

Mysuru: Pramoda Devi Wadiyar of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family expressed displeasure at politics finding its way around the sacred Chamundeshwari temple. "The choice of dignitary invited to inaugurate this year's 'Nada Habba' has given rise to conflicting opinions. Insensitive statements such as Chamundeshwari Temple does not belong to Hindus was both unnecessary and avoidable. If it were not a Hindu temple, it would never have been brought under the Muzrai Department in the first place," she said. She noted that the state, by its nature, cannot claim religious sanctity, sampradaya, or parampare in conducting such a festival. "It is clear that the celebrations organised by the Government of Karnataka are not religious in nature and they simply coincide with the Navaratri celebrations, including Vijayadashami, whereas we continue to observe these dharmic rituals privately, in accordance with age-old religious customs and traditions," she said. ENS

Deadline to file objections on survey list now Sept 1

Bengaluru: The Karnataka Backward Classes Commission has extended the deadline for filing of objections to the list of castes and sub-castes till September 1. The commission recently initiated the social and educational survey of backward classes. On August 22, it had appealed to the public to file objections within seven days. BJP leaders and the public had requested the commission to extend the time for ten more days as there were holidays. Public can file objections or point out if their caste or sub-caste has been be incorrectly identified. Demanding more time, BJP leaders had pointed out that seven days was not enough to file objections due to festivals and holidays and had written to the commission chairperson in this regard. ENS

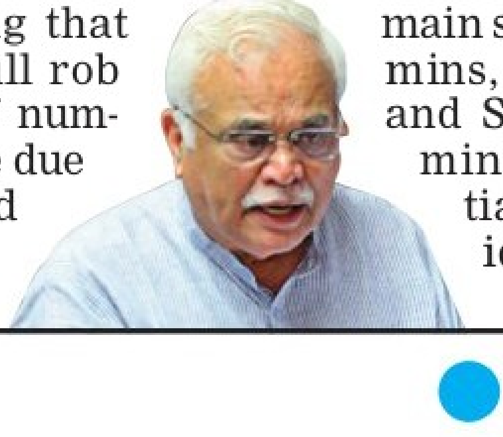
Brahmins fear sub-sects in survey will dilute community numbers

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA'S ambitious caste census has triggered a backlash with the Brahmin community alleging that their population has been "artificially fragmented" into multiple subcategories -- diluting their strength and distorting their representation.

In a letter to Karnataka Backward Classes Commission chairman C S Madhusudan, MLA and former minister R V Deshpande on Thursday warned that the ongoing survey, being conducted after 95 years, risks under reporting the actual Brahmin population by scattering them under confusing codes such as 210 (Brahmin), 477 (Hoysala Karnataka), 802 (Madhva Brahmin), 1216 (Smartha Brahmin), 1227(Srivaishnava), 1228 (Srivaishnava Brahmin) and 209 (Brahmin Christian).

He urged community members to register simply as 'Brahmin' and not under different sects, arguing that fragmentation will rob the community of numbers and therefore due facilities and recognition.



Sources said the estimates of Brahmins number about 42 lakh across Karnataka, with nearly 15 lakh in Bengaluru alone. Traditionally, the community is divided into three main sects: Smartha Brahmins, Madhva Brahmins and Srivaishnava Brahmins. Brahmin Christians, who retain caste identity after conversion, also exist. But leaders said the census has arbitrarily split them up, making the community appear weaker than it is.

"This arbitrary categorisation not only distorts our demographic strength but also undermines our socio-economic representation," said a person from the Brahmin community. "We demand a unified count to reflect the true size of our community."

RAIN FURY

3 DEAD, 6 MISSING AS RAIN RAVAGES TG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad/Kamareddy/Sircilla/Sangareddy/Nirmal

Police personnel rescue students trapped in floodwaters at Sarampalli village in Telangana. Around 300 children were shifted to safer locations | EXPRESS

TORRENTIAL rains battered large parts of Telangana over the past two days, leaving a trail of destruction across Kamareddy, Nirmal, Siddipet and Sircilla districts. At least three people were confirmed dead and six others remain missing.

Director General of Police Jitender said the death toll was "less than 10" but added that search operations were continuing. As many as 1,444 people have been rescued since Wednesday. Officials said that one person died in Rajampet mandal and another two died washed away in Domakonda mandal.

A cloudburst triggered record rainfall, with Rajampet mandal in Kamareddy receiving 49.48 cm in just six-and-a-half hours on Wednesday. This was the heaviest downpour in nearly four decades. Locals described the rain as the "most intense in living memory". The Godavari was in full spate near Eturunagaram. In Nirmal district, NDRF teams rescued cattle grazer B Shankar Naik, who had been stranded without food or water for nearly 30 hours across the river in Munipally village.

Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy, after conducting an aerial survey, directed officials to assess crop damage and consider building high-level bridges to reduce future risks.

Landslip threat: Thamarassery Ghat Road closed indefinitely

PRIYANKA GANDHI SEEKS URGENT INTERVENTION

Wayanad MP Priyanka Gandhi has written to Union Road Transport Minister Nitin Gadkari, urging immediate measures to make the Thamarassery Pass "traffic-friendly." She demanded the deployment of an expert panel to study landslide risks. Cautioning that Wayanad depends on Kozhikode for healthcare, Priyanka warned that the district risked isolation if the ghat remained closed.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalpetta

HEAVY rain triggered multiple landslips near the ninth bend at Churam View Point on the Thamarassery Ghat Road, in Kerala forcing a complete shutdown of the busy mountain pass. Police sealed the entry points at Adivaram in Kozhikode and Lakkidi in Wayanad, diverting vehicles through Kuttiadi Pass, while travellers from Malappuram were advised to take the Nadukani route.

District Collectors of Kozhikode and Wayanad said only emergency services, including ambulances, fuel, milk supply, and media vehicles, would be allowed passage. Kozhikode Collector Snehil Kumar Singh said debris clearance was under way with the support of police, fire and rescue services, and revenue officials led by Thamarassery tahsildar C Subair.

Revenue Minister K Rajan said, "Movement of large vehicles will not be allowed through the pass. Small vehicles may be allowed after the rain subsides. The landslip origin point is at a height of 80 feet. Geology experts must examine the landslip origin point to check for further cracks."

Karnataka textile hubs brace for job, export hit

INDRA S @ Bengaluru

AFTER the 50% tariff imposed by the US President Donald Trump that disrupted textile production in hubs like Tirupur, Noida and Surat, where manufacturers have halted operations amid fears of falling competitiveness, the commerce and textile industry in the state has been advised to remain optimistic.

TARIFF TRACKER

However, experts predict that specific labour-intensive units of the industry could be affected. The tariff imposed by Trump on Indian textile exports has come into effect from Wednesday.

Speaking to TNIE, Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI) president MG Balakrishna acknowledged short-term challenges. "There will be an impact to some extent. When the US stops imports, garment production plans would be disrupted. The garment industry, and in specific the labour-intensive units of the industry, could be affected. However, fabric manufacturers may not be hit as much, as fabrics will still be needed whether garments are made in India or in Bangladesh, Vietnam, or Cambodia," he said.

Balakrishna said that cheaper labour markets like Vietnam and Bangladesh may not immediately absorb the US demand due to limited infrastructure. "Even if garments are made elsewhere, much of the fabric comes from India. So India will still benefit from fabric exports," he said, adding that countries with zero-duty agreements with the US, such as Oman, could collaborate with Indian firms to route exports.

Employment in garment hubs may see a temporary hit, but the FKCCI president expects stability to return within three months. "The impact will be temporary. India is better placed than others because we already have the infrastructure," and added that the textile industry should stay optimistic, and said that it is too early to make any predictions.

"Karnataka's garment sector will face immediate pain — order cancellations, export declines, and job risks," said trade activist Sajjan Raj Mehta, adding, "Cotton duty relief and policy support are cushioning the blow but may not suffice."

In the long run, he stressed, "Survival depends on swift diversification, stronger trade policies, and tapping domestic demand, critical steps for renewal and resilience."

The state's commerce industry expects central support through export incentives and policies. With zero-duty pacts like the UK already in place, more such agreements and rupee-based trade could ease the tariff impact.

STALIN, RAJAA URGE CENTRE TO ACT AMID US TARIFF HIKE THREATS

CHENNAI: TAMIL NADU Chief Minister M K Stalin and Industries Minister T R B Rajaa on Thursday pressed the Union government to urgently intervene after the US raised tariffs on Indian exports, warning of severe consequences for Tamil Nadu's economy. Stalin had earlier written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi on August 16, cautioning that the 50% tariff hike could derail TN's textile sector and warned that as many as 30 lakh jobs could be at risk without swift intervention. Rajaa accused the centre of remaining "mute" in the face of the tariff rise and of failing to consult key states such as TN and Maharashtra during what he described as "extremely tumultuous times".

EDITORIAL

The genius of Americans is that they never make clear-cut stupid moves, only complicated stupid moves which make us wonder at the possibility that there may be something to them we are missing

Gamal Abdel Nasser

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

LET POLITICAL AGENDAS NOT DISTRACT POLICY AS TRADE STORM LOOMS

THE punitive American trade tariffs are upon us. In the period of economic uncertainty leading up to the US formally notifying them, one expected the just-concluded monsoon session of parliament to focus on a national response—that the government, mindful of the moment's gravity, would engage with the opposition, present options to the public, and reassure businesses. Instead, the government redirected focus to Bills mandating the dismissal of ministers jailed for criminal offences for 30 days, resulting in automatic forfeiture of office on the 31st day.

These constitutional amendments raise legitimate questions. While public faith in governance requires that those in power remain above suspicion, the proposed mechanism appears crude. Democracy thrives on the presumption of innocence and due process, not assembly-line punishments that any government could misuse. To tie a minister's tenure to the calendar of custody before guilt is established gives executive bodies disproportionate leverage.

Markets are bound to notice as well. Investors, already wary of tariff uncertainty, would weigh how these bills could unsettle Centre-state relations further if they become law. In states like Bihar, where elections are due, the mere perception that governments could be destabilised through preordained action is politically unsettling. The message being sent—that electoral victories can be undone through legal mechanisms—may serve immediate political interests, but would hardly strengthen democratic norms. In any case, the complex mechanism to pass constitutional amendments will test the ruling coalition's strength in parliament and its ability to persuade states to ratify them.

The opposition, for its part, has partially responded with a boycott of the Joint Parliamentary Committee examining the Bills. The gesture may signal protest, but participation would enable opposition members to put tough questions on record and, if necessary, leave a dissent note that would stand as a formal counterweight. A boycott, by contrast, risks being read as abdication, ceding the field entirely to the ruling benches.

The main concern here is about priorities. The government should explain why it rushed through the introduction of these Bills and face the public's questions about its motives. The opposition, as the voice of the people in parliament, must use every available tool to hold the government to account. Even outside parliament, both sides need to prioritise resolving the growing economic crisis before addressing other issues.

ODISHA INFRA PLANS NEED SWIFT, CAREFUL EXECUTION

FOR long, Odisha's urban growth was a story of tardiness. With an urbanisation rate of 17 percent, far below the national average, the eastern state remained among the bottom feeders. However, two major initiatives—the Capital Region Ring Road and the Greater Bhubaneswar Region project—by the Mohan Charan Majhi government could bring about a paradigm shift. The Union cabinet recently gave its nod to the 118-km ring road plan at a cost of ₹8,300 crore, one of the biggest infrastructure projects to be implemented in the state. The new six-lane, access-controlled highway not only seeks to decongest the state's two biggest urban centres—Bhubaneswar and Cuttack—it would also be a gamechanger in moving freight and significantly reducing logistics costs. Aligning three major national highways in the state, it has the potential to emerge as a key economic corridor and a driver of socio-economic growth by linking industrial zones, trade hubs, ports and tourism centres in the region. The BJP government has also planned a greater metropolitan region of over 7,500 sq km covering Bhubaneswar, Cuttack, Puri, and Paradip. Increased connectivity and better infrastructure spurring growth through sustainable urbanisation and strategic public-private partnerships can act as accelerators of the urban development the state needs. A new airport at Puri is at an advanced stage of clearances, while the government has planned another airport in the port town of Paradip.

The government needs to pick up pace in implementing these initiatives if it is to achieve its target of 40 percent urbanisation in the state by 2036. However, it should be careful that the projects do not adversely affect the region's ecologically sensitive zones. For example, a section of the ring road passes through a critical elephant habitat in Dhenkanal. Since infrastructure projects necessitate large land parcels and some of them would be situated close to key coastal ecosystems, due diligence must be done. The need for urban development in Odisha cannot be overemphasised, given its bold plans to be an economically vibrant state ready to tap the best of investments. With the urban population projected to grow more than twofold over the next decade, the demand on housing, public infrastructure and services would also rise commensurately. The Majhi government has set the ball rolling for a transformative change. It's time for responsible and swift implementation now.

QUICK TAKE

MUSIC FOR FOOD

PROFESSORS and students at St Petersburg's University of South Florida have collaborated to compose a jazz piece drawing attention to the devastation facing the region's oyster industry from over-harvesting, habitat loss and climate change. Meanwhile, in some parts of Maharashtra, folk musicians are still called from village to village to bless the harvest. They and their instruments, often made from gourd shells, are treated reverentially and have been used earlier to promote crops like grapes in new regions. Taken together, these are pointers that effective communication for food—whether aimed at farmers or consumers—can use the form of music. To paraphrase the bard, if music is for the love of food, play on.

The GST redesign should go beyond simplifying tax rates. The new regime must reduce burden on small businesses and the poor. States deserve larger, predictable shares of the receipts

GST 2.0: TIME TO TAKE THE NEXT BIG LEAP IN TAX REFORM

AJIT RANADE

GST 2.0
WIDER NET, FISCAL FEDERALISM, GROWTH FRIENDLY,

SOURAV ROY

ON Independence Day, the Prime Minister announced reforms to the goods and services tax regime that amount to a historic redesign. The GST regime, rolled out seven years ago, is considered a landmark reform. It is a destination-based consumption tax that aims to unify the country into a common economic market, with one system of indirect taxes. It eliminates interstate frictions. It is fully electronic and has in-built incentives to file taxes and claim credit on taxes paid in the value chain and, hence, is supposed to reduce leakages. It was also expected to be buoyant due to increased compliance.

But some shortfalls have become evident over seven years. The need for GST 2.0 was felt mainly because of the multiplicity of tax slabs, frequent changes in classifications leading to disputes, the lack of coverage of significant parts of GDP, and the huge compliance burden it has placed, especially on small businesses. It fails to fully reimburse exporters for all the domestic taxes paid, making exports uncompetitive. The new scheme will hopefully address all these shortcomings.

Another apprehension of the state governments is about shortfall in revenue. The GST reform was achieved as a grand bargain between the Union and state governments. The former gave up its right to impose excise and service taxes, and all states surrendered their right to impose state-level sales tax, value-added tax, and other sundry taxes such as octroi. The states were persuaded to surrender their tax autonomy by a legally binding promise to make up the reve-nue shortfalls. This is the GST compensation clause in the original Act of 2017, which expired in 2022. Now, the states are afraid that they will face a steep fall in their tax shares. GST 2.0 will, hopefully, also address this.

The fact is that most spending obligations are with the state and local governments, whereas two-thirds of the revenue is garnered by the Union, which is then devolved according to a for-mula. The time has come to re-examine whether the share of GST be split 60:40 in favour of the states, rather than the 50:50 in the current design. Different states have differing spending priorities depending on their developmental stages and reality. The proposed reform must ensure that states receive a larger, predictable share of GST receipts to meet their development needs.

It is expected that in GST 2.0, the multiplicity of rates—from 5, 12, 18, 28 and 40 percent, with some other, additional rates—will be collapsed only into two rates: one for merit goods like food and medicine, and a standard rate for all other items. This simplification will reduce the disputes of classification and the resultant litigation. There will be a much smaller set of 'sin goods' for which a penal rate will apply.

Most items in the 12 percent and 28 percent slabs are expected to move to 5 percent and 18 percent, respectively, greatly reducing consumer confusion, litigation, and compliance costs. Some analysts' research shows that nearly 75 percent of GST receipts will be routed through the 18 percent slab, and the effective average rate may drop by 1 percentage point, freeing purchasing power and stimulating growth.

However, this redesign may temporarily reduce GST revenues by roughly 0.5 percent of GDP (about ₹1.8 trillion per year). This loss has to be shared between the Union and state governments. It is to be treated as a fiscal boost at a time when American tariffs are pounding the In-dian economy. Due to the lower effective GST rates and the possible decrease in prices by 7-10 percent, especially for high-value items, demand may go up. This coupled with improved tax compliance and winding down of the compensation cess—previously used for debt repayments of state governments—will help offset fiscal losses and can boost GDP growth in the next year. Some of the lost revenue will be recovered from compensation cess on tobacco, coal, and automotive sector, which will continue within the new GST framework.

A major weakness in the current GST system is the exclusion of some key sectors—petroleum, electricity, alcohol, and real estate. The planned reforms seek to expand GST net to these sec-tors, making tax receipts more stable and reducing distortions from fragmented supply chains. International best practices show that a broad tax base allows for lower rates overall, benefiting consumers and fostering compliance.

With its present multiple slabs and complex rules, GST 1.0 has led to an explosion in litigation and compliance challenges, clogging courts and raising business costs. Routine classification disputes and procedural errors often end up in judicial proceedings, creating enormous back-logs and financial strain. To resolve disputes efficiently, the government announced the GST Appellate Tribunal (GSTAT) in 2024, and its procedures were formalised in April 2025. The tri-bunal is set to manage appeals, provide rapid digital case management, and ease court over-load. Yet, as of August 2025, many states have not nominated essential members and full-scale functionality is still awaited. As part of the new reform, it is recommended that GSTAT be housed independently, outside the finance ministry, to ensure unbiased adjudication, akin to the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal model.

Finally, it must be recognised that an indirect tax like GST hurts the poor more than the rich, since the tax paid does not depend on the income of the payer. This makes it unfair and regressive. Hence, the lower slab is on goods mostly consumed by the poor. This way of making GST fair is a crude proxy to a direct income tax system. But ultimately, the overall balance of collections must tilt more towards direct taxes like income, wealth and corporate taxes, which can be designed to be equitable, fair and efficient. The GST burden, which is relatively disproportionate on the poor and small businesses, must be minimised.

The GST overhaul—a vision supported by economists, policymakers, and analysts—is a rare op-portunity to create a cleaner, more growth-friendly, and just tax regime. With a streamlined rate structure, wider net, stronger fiscal federalism, operational tribunals, and a move toward progressive direct taxation, GST 2.0 can usher in strong, sustainable economic progress and a more equitable future.

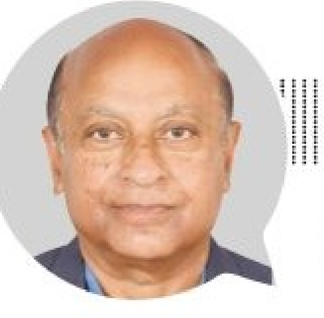
INDIA'S BATTLE OF THE BULGE



K N NINAN

Former Professor, ISEC, Bengaluru and Lead Author, GEO-7, UNEP Nairobi

A report published by Lancet has depicted an alarming picture of the state of obesity in India—about 21.8 crore men and 23.1 crore women, or a third of India's population, are likely to be overweight or obese by 2050.

In India, people with a body mass index (BMI) of above or equal to 25 are categorised as obese or overweight. According to the World Health Organization, those with a BMI of 25 or more are considered overweight, and those with 30 or more as obese. The BMI is a measure of a person's body fat based on their height and weight, and is calculated by dividing a person's weight in kilograms, by the square of their height in meters (kg/m²).

India ranked third in the world with an estimated 4.5 crore people categorised as obese in 2023. The top rank was held by the US, with an estimated 7.94 crore obese people, followed by China with 5.73 crore. However, the proportion of obese people to the total population in India and China being 7.2 percent and 8.2 percent, respectively, are much lower than that for the US (42.9 percent). In many developed and developing countries, the obesity rate is around 30 percent or more.

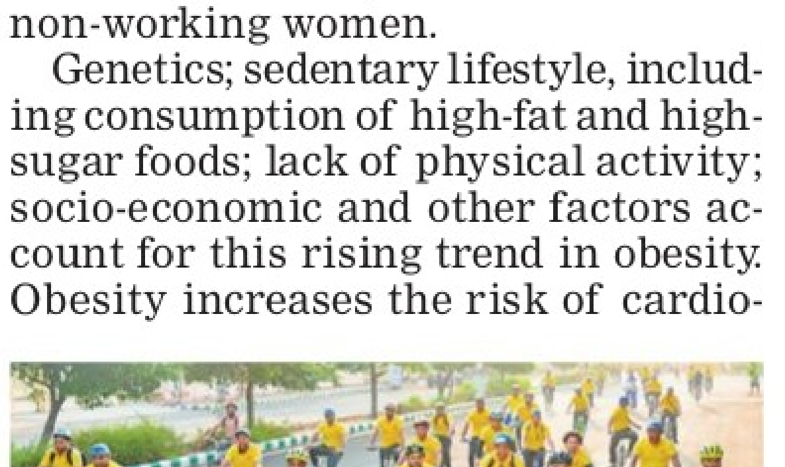
Global data shows that between 1990 to 2022, the overall percentage of adults above 18 years with obesity has more than doubled from 7 percent to 16 percent, while for children and adolescents aged 5 to 18 years, this proportion rose from 2 percent to 8 percent. These rates vary widely across countries and regions.

Results of India's National Family Health Survey (NFHS) reveal an upward trend in the prevalence of obesity among Indian men and women. Between NFHS-4 and NFHS-5 rounds, corresponding to the periods 2015-16 and 2019-21, the proportion of overweight or obese persons among Indian men and women increased from 18.6 percent and 20.7 percent respectively; during 2015-16 and 2019-21, to about 22.9 percent and 24 percent respectively.

Over these two periods, the percentage of obese children in India (under five years) rose from 2.1 percent to 3.4 percent. The obesity rate was higher among urban Indians than rural Indians. Abdominal obesity was higher among Indian women as compared to Indian men.

A study led by Sakshi Singh of Lucknow's King George's Medical University noted that male children in India were at a higher risk of developing obesity compared to female children. Further, children studying in private schools were at a higher risk, compared to those studying in government schools. Children of working women faced a higher risk of obesity, as compared to children of non-working women.

Genetics; sedentary lifestyle, including consumption of high-fat and high-sugar foods; lack of physical activity; socio-economic and other factors account for this rising trend in obesity. Obesity increases the risk of cardiovascular diseases, diabetes, musculoskeletal disorders and certain types of cancers. The International Diabetes Federation projects that by 2050, India will be home to the second-largest number of diabetic (15.6 crore) people in the world.



X.COM

India has the third-largest population of obese people in the world. The global trend is a massive drain on public health resources. The Indian govt's various efforts against it need to be supplemented by vigorous awareness campaigns

This rising trend in obesity is a matter of concern for the government and households, hence, a larger share of government and household budget must be allocated for healthcare expenditures. The economic costs of obesity, in terms of health care costs and lost productivity, are immense. As per a 2023 report in the British Medical Journal, the global burden of overweight and obesity is expected to reach $4.2 trillion by 2035. Obesity costs the US healthcare system about $172 billion per year, whereas for the UK National Health Services it costs around £6.5 billion a year.

According to Global Obesity Observatory, the economic cost of obesity in India in 2019 was estimated at $28.95 billion (about ₹2.5 lakh crore), which is about 1.02 percent of India's GDP. It is expected to rise to $81.53 billion (about ₹7 lakh crore) by 2030 which is about 1.57 percent of India's projected GDP. Without intervention, these costs for India may reach $838.6 billion (about ₹69.6 lakh crore) by 2060.

National Sample Survey's Consumer Expenditure Survey data reveals that not only undernutrition, but also overnutrition has been a serious problem in India. While undernutrition has received considerable attention in policy interventions in India, overnutrition has largely been neglected. Liberalisation of the Indian economy has led to consumption of more processed foods, meats and junk food, which have aggravated obesity in India.

Unlike in schools abroad, where participation in sports and gymnastics are compulsory, it is optional in India. Sports and gymnastics must be made compulsory in our schools. It is not enough that we practice yoga only on International Yoga Day, but also do it on a regular basis to improve health and well-being.

Awareness campaigns to encourage people to be fit, and shift to sustainable and healthier diets need to be accelerated. Although the government has implemented initiatives such as Fit India movement, Poshan Abhiyan, Khelo India to fester fitness and healthier lifestyle, these have had no visible impacts so far. It is laudable that the Union health ministry has taken cognisance of the matter and started acting.

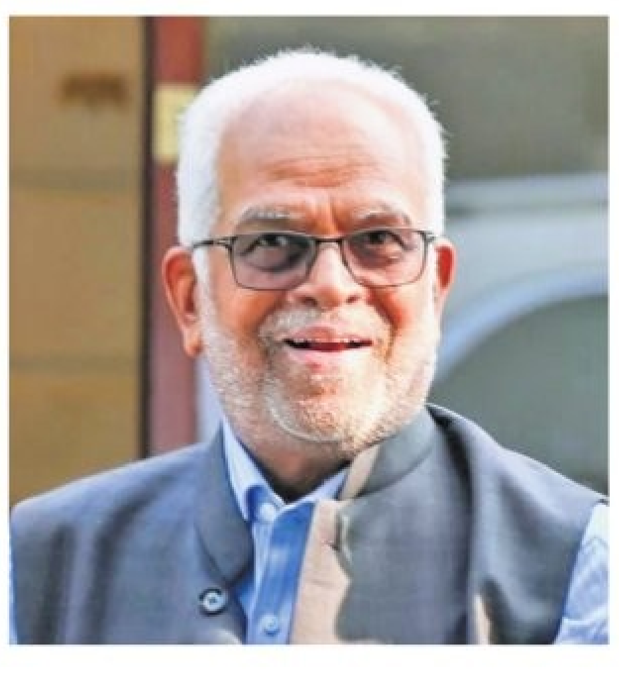
Reddy questions letter's credibility

Says some of 56 retired judges have said they neither signed nor were aware of the letter

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi



'Don't think ex-judges have written against me'

Expressing reservations over the statement, Justice Reddy said that it is not a political battle and he wants the contest to be one of the most decent elections ever fought in recent times in Indian history. "I do not think that the ex-judges have written anything against me. They have expressed their opinion to which they are entitled to, and I respect it,"

SOME of the 56 retired judges, including a former Supreme Court judge, have said that they neither signed nor were aware of the statement slamming 18 judges over criticism of Union Home Minister Amit Shah's remarks regarding opposition vice presidential candidate Justice Sudershan Reddy's ruling on the Salwa Judum.

Confirming this, Reddy, in an interview to this newspaper, said that one of the purported signatories happened to be a former judge of the apex court. "The judge told me that he hadn't heard about such a letter and knew nothing about it. In fact, quite a few judges in the list haven't signed it and some of them were not even aware that such a letter is published," he said.

According to people aware of the matter, Justice Reddy was referring to Justice RV Raveendran, who has clarified to the former that he is not a signatory to the statement. Among the signatories, one or perhaps more are fictitious names, Reddy said, adding, "Our research suggests that one or perhaps more names of the ex-judges of the High Court in the list are fictitious."

On Tuesday, as many as 56 former Judges, including two former Chief Justices of India, P Sathasivam and Ranjan Gogoi, in a statement, slammed a few former judges over criticism of Amit Shah for remarks on Reddy. The institution of the judiciary must be kept above and distinct from such entanglement, they said.

"A fellow retired judge has chosen, of his own volition, to contest the election for the office of the Vice President of India. By doing so, he has stepped into the political arena as a candidate supported by the opposition. Having made that choice, he must defend his candidacy like any other contestant, in the realm of political debate. To suggest otherwise is to stifle democratic discourse and to misuse the cover of judicial independence for political convenience," read the letter.

Expressing reservations over the statement, Justice Reddy said that it is not a political battle and he wants the contest to be one of the most decent elections ever fought in recent times in Indian history.

"I do not think that the ex-judges have written anything against me. They have expressed their opinion to which they are entitled to, and I respect it,"

"However, I would acknowledge the invaluable suggestion made by them that the office of the Vice-President of India is a political one, and I have chosen to contest for a political office. I would disagree with them on that part of their statement with great respect," he added. Citing the examples of Dr S Radhakrishnan, Dr Zakir Husain, and V V Giri, he said, "They were not party persons. There is nothing political about it". Stressing that he doesn't belong to any political party and has no intention to join any in future, Reddy said that he will soon write to all political parties seeking support in the upcoming election.

"The Electoral College as such doesn't contain any colour, does it? All of them are voters. It's my obligation and duty to talk to each of the voters. And the method I have chosen is to communicate with them through my appeal. I am writing to each one of them," he said.

US moves to limit stays of students, exchange visitors

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

IN a move toward reinstating tougher immigration controls, the Trump administration has revived a controversial proposal to impose strict time limits on visas for foreign students, cultural exchange visitors, and international media personnel.

The proposed rule, originally floated in 2020 but withdrawn under President Biden, marks a return to the administration's broader effort to curb what it terms as systemic visa abuse and lax enforcement.

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) announced that it intends to eliminate the long-standing "duration of status" policy, which has allowed F visa holders, primarily international students, to remain in the United States for the length of their academic programs without a fixed end date, so long as they maintained their course of study.

"This administration is committed to closing loopholes that have for too long allowed foreign nationals to remain in the country virtually indefinitely, at the expense of national security and taxpayer dollars," a DHS spokesperson said in a press statement. "The new rule would ensure tighter oversight of nonimmigrant visa holders."

Under the revived rule, student (F) and exchange visitor (J) visas would be valid only for the standard length of the academic or cultural program, capped at four years, with extensions requiring a formal application to U.S.

Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and additional scrutiny. Media professionals holding I visas would also face new restrictions. Currently granted five-year stays with options for renewal, I visa holders would instead be subject to an initial 240-day limit, with a single extension of another 240 days contingent on assignment duration. The administration argues that these changes will address what officials describe as abuses of the system, such as "forever students" who remain enrolled for years to extend their legal stay.

Accompanying the proposal is newly issued policy guidance from USCIS instructing officers to more aggressively scrutinize student visa applicants based on conduct, immigration history, familial ties, and ideological leanings. The manual warns that any expression of anti-American sentiment, antisemitism, or support for terrorist organizations could result in visa denial or revocation.

Visa officers are now explicitly encouraged to conduct a "discretionary analysis" that weighs both positive and negative factors in determining an applicant's eligibility—a shift that grants wide latitude to individual adjudicators and potentially opens the door to politically influenced decision-making.

Milestone achieved: No. of school teachers in India crosses 1-cr mark

S LALITHA @ New Delhi

Academic year	Teachers	Female teachers	Girls enrolment
2022-2023	94,83,294	52.3%	48%
2023-2024	98,07,600	53.3%	48.1%
2024-2025	1,01,22,420	54.2%	48.3%

THE number of teachers in the country's schools has crossed the one-crore mark. The achievement was recorded during the fiscal 2024-2025, according to the Unified District Information System for Education Plus (UDISE+) 2024-25 report, which the Ministry of Education released on Thursday.

"The increase in teacher numbers is a critical step toward improving student-teacher ratios, ensuring quality education, and addressing regional disparities in teacher availability," the report said.

The numbers have steadily increased since 2022-23 and the reporting year. There was a 6.7% increase in the number of teachers during the reporting year compared to 2022-23.

The academic year 2024–25 has also seen a rise in the representation of female teachers, with women now comprising 54.2% of the total teaching workforce. "Female representation in schools has shown a positive uptick in the academic year 2024–25, with girls' enrolment reaching 48.3%, up from 48.1% in the previous year. Although modest, this improvement reflects ongoing efforts to promote gender equity in education and ensure greater access and participation for girls across all levels," it said. The Pupil-Teacher Ratio (PTR) at the Foundational, Preparatory, Middle, and Secondary levels is now reported as 10, 13, 17, and 21, respectively, all significantly improved ratios qua NEP's recommended ratio of 1:30.

GOVT. SCHOOL

Dropout rates reduced notably across the Preparatory, Middle, and Secondary levels as compared to 2022-23 and 2023-24. At the Preparatory stage, the rate declined from 3.7% to 2.3%, at the Middle stage from 5.2% to 3.5%, and at the Secondary stage from 10.9% to 8.2% compared to the previous year.

Retention rates also improved, increasing from 98.0% to 98.9% at the Foundational level, from 85.4% to 92.4% at the Preparatory level, from 78.0% to 82.8% at the Middle level, and from 45.6% to 47.2% at the Secondary level.

The transition rate from Foundational to Preparatory increased from 98.1% to 98.6%, from Preparatory to Middle rose from 88.8% to 92.2%, and from Middle to Secondary improved from 83.3% to 86.6%.

The report noted that governmental interventions led to a 38% decline in the number of zero-enrolment schools, while single-teacher schools decreased by around 6%. Access to internet facilities in schools rose considerably in the academic year 2024–25. The percentage of schools with internet connectivity increased from 53.9% in the previous year to 63.5%. "Today, 93.6% of schools are powered with electricity, 97.3% have girls' toilets, and 96.2% have boys' toilets—ensuring dignity and hygiene for all students. Handwashing facilities are now available in 95.9% of schools, and access to safe drinking water has reached an impressive 99.3%.

BORDER SECURITY

India, B'desh agree to curb illegal movements on international border

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE Directorate General-level talks between the Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB) and Border Security Force (BSF) concluded on Thursday, with both sides agreeing to tighten border security and reduce illegal cross-border movement.

The discussions, which began on August 25, culminated in the signing of a Joint Record of Discussions (JRD). During the talks, Major General Mohammad Ashrafuzzaman Siddiqui, Director-General of BGB, raised concerns about the "indiscriminate shootings and killings of Bangladeshi nationals by BSF personnel and Indian citizens along the border".

In response, BSF Director-General Daljit Singh Chaudhary assured India's commitment to preventing such incidents, highlighting measures like enhanced night patrols and additional precautions in vulnerable areas, officials said.

The meeting, held in Dhaka, included senior officials from both countries. The Indian delegation, led by Chaudhary, comprised BSF officials, representatives from the Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of External Affairs, and the Indian High Commission in Dhaka.

The Bangladesh delegation, led by Siddiqui, included 21 members. The two sides agreed to jointly conduct awareness programs, implement socio-economic initiatives in vulnerable border areas and promote respect for border sanctity. They also discussed preventing cross-border movement of criminals and agreed to repatriate illegal Bangladeshi nationals in India through mutually agreed procedures. Other key outcomes included the construction of a Single Row Fence (SRF).

NIA confirms 3 Pak-based LeT operatives involved in Pahalgam terror attack

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) has for the first time officially confirmed that "three terrorists" were directly involved in the terror attack in Kashmir's Pahalgam which claimed 26 lives on April 22.

According to the officials, the terrorists chose the picturesque Baisaran meadow due to its high number of tourists' presence and relative isolation.

A spokesperson for the NIA, which is probing the case, said, "Three terrorists were directly involved in the attack", adding that the target was also chosen considering the "response time" from the security agencies.

The terrorists only targeted male tourists milling around eateries, taking pony rides or just picnicking with their families, including young children and parents, in the meadow near Pahalgam, which is popularly known as 'Mini Switzerland'. In June, the NIA arrested two men for harbouring the three Pakistan-based terrorists, who were killed by the armed forces late last month as part of 'Operation Mahadev'. The arrested duo — Parvaiz Ahmad Jothar from Batkote and Bashir Ahmad Jothar from Pahalgam - disclosed the identities of the three terrorists as Pakistani nationals affiliated to the banned terror outfit Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT).

As per the officials, the two arrested men had provided food, shelter and logistical support to the terrorists. The three terrorists, who were killed in the July 28 encounter, had been hiding in the Dachigam-Harwan forest belt since the attack, they said. In response to the Pahalgam attack, the Indian armed forces on May 7 carried out precision strikes at terrorist hideouts in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir under Operation Sindoor.

VISMAY BASU @ New Delhi

THE NARI 2025 National Annual Report and Index on Women's Safety, released by the National Commission for Women, offers the telling reality of the urban safety landscape. The survey covered 12,770 women across 31 cities and yielded a national safety score of 65%, which implies that four in 10 women (40%) consider themselves unsafe despite government assurances.

Around 60% of women reported feeling safe, while 40% admitted they felt "not-so-safe" or outright unsafe. The anxieties deepen among younger women: while public harassment was reported by 7% of all respondents in 2024, the figure rose to 14% for those under 24, indicating that students and young professionals are disproportionately targeted in educational and recreational spaces.

The report shows low levels of faith in redressal mechanism. Only one in three victims of harassment filed a formal complaint, and confidence in the system is strikingly weak: 75% of women said they did not believe authorities would resolve their complaints. Even when incidents are reported, only 22% are formally registered, and action is taken in a mere 16% of those cases, highlighting a pervasive cycle of silence. Harassment hotspots reveal vulnerabilities, with 38% of cases occurring within neighbourhoods and 29% in public transport systems.

Workplace safety presents a paradoxical picture. A large majority—91%—described their office environment as safe, but nearly half of the respondents admitted they were unaware whether their organisation had implemented the mandated Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH) mechanism. Among those who were aware, most found it effective, suggesting that awareness is as critical as legislation itself. The report stresses that women's safety cannot be reduced to physical protection alone but must include psychological, financial, and digital security that collectively shape women's access to mobility, opportunity, and dignity. It frames safety as a developmental issue rather than a law-and-order question.

The sense of safety also varies with time and place. Women reported relative comfort in offices and campuses during the day, but confidence collapsed after dark, where poor street lighting and unreliable public transport left them exposed.

City-level disparities are equally stark: Kohima, Visakhapatnam, and Bhubaneswar topped the index, followed closely by Aizawl, Gangtok, Itanagar, and Mumbai, where women expressed relatively higher perceptions of safety. In contrast, Patna, Jaipur, Faridabad, Delhi, Kolkata, Srinagar, and Ranchi occupied the bottom ranks. Ranchi recorded 44% feeling unsafe, while in Delhi and Faridabad the figure was around 42%. The numbers show a fractured urban landscape where geography shapes women's fears as much as governance.

Air pollution reducing average life expectancy by 3.5 years, says study

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

AIR pollution is reducing the average life expectancy in India by 3.5 years, nearly twice the impact of childhood and maternal malnutrition and more than five times that of unsafe water, sanitation, and handwashing, according to a study by the Energy Policy Institute at the University of Chicago (EPIC).

The study said child and maternal malnutrition leads to a loss of 1.6 years, tobacco use 1.5 years, and unsafe water, sanitation, and handwashing about 8.4 months of average life expectancy. Data from the Air Quality Life Index (AQLI) show that northern India remains the most polluted region in the world, with 544.4 million people, or 38.9% of India's population, living under severe pollution conditions. The analysis is based on data from 2023, compared to the previous year.

According to the AQLI data of Indian states and Union territories, residents of Delhi-NCR lose 8.2 years of life expectancy due to PM2.5 pollution compared with the WHO guideline of 5 $\mu g/m^3$. Bihar (5.6 years), Haryana (5.3 years), and Uttar Pradesh (5 years) follow.

BREATHLESS IN CAPITAL

- Air pollution beats child malnutrition in reducing average life expectancy
- Northern India, with 544 million people, faces the worst air pollution globally
- Delhi-NCR loses 8.2 years of life expectancy due to PM2.5, followed by Bihar (5.6 years) and Haryana (5.3 years)
- Delhi-NCR loses 4.74 years compared to India's 40 $\mu g/m^3$ PM2.5 standard
- Reducing pollution to meet national standards could add 1.5 years to life expectancy in high-pollution areas

However, while comparing with PM2.5 from 2023 concentration to the National PM2.5 standard of 40 $\mu g/m^3$, Delhi-NCR residents lose 4.74 years of life expectancy, followed by Bihar (1.97 years), Haryana (1.83 years), and Uttar Pradesh (1.59 years).

About 46% of the population lives in areas that exceed the national annual PM2.5 standard. "Reducing particulate concentrations in these regions to meet India's national standard could add 1.5 years to the life expectancy of people living in these regions," the analysis stated. All of India's 1.4 billion people live in areas where annual particulate levels exceed the WHO guideline. Even in the cleanest regions, life expectancy could rise by 9.4 months if pollution were reduced to that level. The study reported that pollution in South Asia increased by 2.8% in 2023, following a slight dip in 2022.

The region remains the most polluted in the world, reducing life expectancy by an average of 3 years, and by more than 8 years in the worst-affected areas.

Army roped in to help relief, rescue ops ● 40 villages submerged In Amritsar's Ramdass area

Flood situation grim in Punjab

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE flood situation in Punjab and Himachal Pradesh continued to remain grim on Thursday as heavy rains in the catchment areas of Himachal and Jammu swelled the Sutlej, Beas, and Ravi rivers, inundating villages, damaging infrastructure, and cutting off road links. In Punjab, eight districts have been severely affected, with 518 villages underwater, more than 5,290 people evacuated, and three deaths reported so far.

The water levels in the Bhakra, Pong, Ranjit Sagar, and Shahpur Kandi dams are close to, or have likely even exceeded, the maximum level. At the Bhakra, the level was 1671.85 feet on Thursday morning, only nine feet short of the maximum level of 1680 feet.

In Himachal Pradesh, for the third straight day, Kullu, Manali, and Lahaul and Spiti have been completely cut off from the rest of the state. The Kiratpur-Manali national highway and the Manali-Leh national highway was badly damaged at multiple places, and a large number of tourists are stranded. Many portions of the highway have either collapsed or been completely swept away. The Manali-Leh highway, the vital link to Lahaul-Spiti and Leh-Ladakh, has been severely damaged beyond Manali towards Keylong.

Flash floods in the Ravi River washed away government buildings or submerged two high-altitude, remote tribal villages, Bada Bhangal in Kangra and Haloon in Chamba, and triggered landslides that killed four persons and injured two. Army, NDRF, and SDRF teams are engaged in massive relief and rescue operations. Water levels in major reservoirs have reached or are nearing their maximum capacity. Power stations and waterlines have been disrupted.

In Punjab, the worst-hit districts include Gurdaspur, Amritsar, Kapurthala, Ferozepur, Tarn Taran, Pathankot, Fazilka, and Hoshiarpur. About 150 villages are affected in Gurdaspur, 115 in Kapurthala, and 100 in Amritsar alone. Nearly 2,000 people have been rescued in Ferozepur, where 12 relief camps are functioning.

In Amritsar's Ramdass area, about 40 villages were submerged after breaches in the Dhussi bandh on the Ravi, forcing police to make public announcements urging people to move to safer places.

Vaishno Devi board, J&K L-G under fire for deaths

The death of 35 pilgrims, including 20 women, in a landslide en route to the Vaishno Devi shrine has prompted criticism from residents of Katra, families of the deceased, and Congress leaders, who blamed the Vaishno Devi Shrine Board and its chairman and Lt Governor Manoj Sinha for negligence. Many questioned why the yatra was allowed to continue despite a weather advisory. The landslide, triggered by heavy rains, struck near Inderprastha Bhojnalaya at Ardhkuwari cave temple Tuesday.

17 DEAD AS 4-STOREY BUILDING COLLAPSES IN MUMBAI SUBURB

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

SEVENTEEN people were killed and several were injured after a portion of the Ramabai Apartment in Virar, an extended suburb of Mumbai, collapsed Wednesday.

According to civic officials, the incident took place while members of the Jovil family were celebrating the first birthday of Utkarsha Omkar Jovil on the building's fourth floor. The one-year-old girl died immediately, while her 23-year-old mother also succumbed. Her father, Omkar Jovil, remains missing and is believed to be trapped under debris.

The building, constructed illegally between 2012 and 2013 by Nittal Gopinath Sane, owner of Sai Developers, had been declared unsafe by the Vasai-Virar Municipal Corporation (VVMC).

Authorities had issued evacuation notices, but residents did not vacate.

Following the collapse, Virar police arrested builder Nittal Sane under Section 105 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (culpable homicide not amounting to murder), along with sections of the Maharashtra Regional and Town Planning (MRTP) Act. He will be produced in court.

Maharashtra CM Devendra Fadnavis announced an ex gratia of ₹5 lakh for the families of the deceased. He said action would be taken against other such unsafe structures across the state.

"The local authority had already issued the notice to Ramabai Apartment and even asked them to carry out the structural audit of the building because it was declared unsafe to stay in. But people did not move out because of several reasons. However, we as a government need to be strict against such buildings to save the lives of the people. The survey will be carried out to identify more such buildings, and action will be taken," Fadnavis said.

Dubai-bound flight lands safely after tech snag

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

A mid-air scare was reported on Thursday when an IndiGo flight from Surat to Dubai (6E-1507), carrying 150 passengers, made an emergency landing at Ahmedabad after one of its engines developed a technical snag. The aircraft landed safely and all passengers disembarked without incident. They were subsequently flown to Dubai on an alternate aircraft.

The incident occurred soon after the aircraft took off from Surat International Airport. The pilot swiftly alerted Air Traffic Control and diverted the plane to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel International Airport, Ahmedabad.

An airport official said, "An IndiGo flight travelling from Surat to Dubai made an emergency landing in Ahmedabad after the pilot immediately decided to divert the aircraft. Technical teams at Ahmedabad Airport carried out a detailed inspection of the plane. Passengers were accommodated on an alternate flight, which has since departed."

Bihar on high alert as three Pak terrorists enter state via Nepal

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

AN intelligence report has warned that three Pakistani terrorists owing allegiance to Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM) have infiltrated into Bihar from Nepal and may attempt to carry out attacks during the Assembly polls later this year.

Acting swiftly, the state police headquarters sounded an alert across Bihar, particularly in districts bordering Nepal. Authorities in East Champaran announced a reward of ₹50,000 on Thursday for anyone providing information on the whereabouts of the terrorists.

The three suspected JeM operatives have been identified as Hasnain Ali of Rawalpindi, Adil Hussain of Umarkot, and Mohammad Usman of Bahawalpur, all residents of Pakistan. According to the intelligence input, the trio carried their passports, landed in Kathmandu in the second week of August, and entered Indian territory the following week "with the help of a local Nepali resident".

Deputy Inspector General (Purnea Range) Pramod Kumar Mandal said superintendents of police in Purnea, Katihar, Araria, and Kishanganj—districts sharing borders with Nepal and Bangladesh—have been instructed to maintain maximum alert and take all precautionary measures.

He added that such inputs often come from multiple agencies in the lead-up to elections. Bihar DGP Vinay Kumar said a general alert had been sounded across the state. All district police units and specialised wings have been asked to intensify patrolling, search operations, and area domination to thwart any possible attempt by anti-national elements. The alert follows the arrest of Nazre Saddam of Barahpur in Bhagalpur district for his alleged involvement in the circulation of counterfeit Indian currency.

- August 28, 2025: HC cancels the S-I recruitment exam

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

AFTER years of delay and suspense, the Rajasthan High Court has finally cancelled the controversial Rajasthan Police Sub-Inspector (SI) Recruitment Examination 2021. Calling the entire process "corrupt" and compromised, Justice Sameer Jain's single bench delivered the crucial verdict on Thursday after a prolonged hearing, bringing relief to candidates demanding cancellation.

In its order, the court observed that the recruitment paper was leaked on a large scale, spread across the state, and even reached the so-called "Bluetooth gang." Justice Jain noted that six members of the Rajasthan Public Service Commission (RPSC) were directly involved in the irregularities. The bench also ruled that the posts from this recruitment must be added to the 2025 recruitment, and all candidates from the 2021 batch should be allowed to appear again.

The order named former RPSC Chairman Sanjay Shrotriya, along with members Babu Lal Katara and Ramuram Raika, as complicit in the leak.

It mentioned that RPSC members Manju Sharma, Sangeeta Arya, and Jaswant Rathi were approached by Raika in connection with the interviews of his own children.

The SI recruitment exam was held from September 13 to 15, 2021, with over 7.97 lakh candidates competing for 859 posts. The scandal surfaced in February 2024, sparking outrage and becoming a key issue in the 2023 assembly elections. After coming to power, CM Bhajanlal Sharma formed an SIT under ADG VK Singh to probe the leak, with more than 125 arrests made so far.

The verdict has also fuelled a political blame game. Cabinet minister Kirori Lal Meena, who had persistently demanded cancellation, claimed vindication, while RLP supremo Hanuman Beniwal, who led protests, insisted the victory belonged to his movement.

Congress state president Govind Singh Dotasra said, "This government will appeal against the decision."

Rahul steps up attack on 'vote theft' at 'Samvidhan Samman Sammelan'...

RAMASHANKAR @Motihari

SENIOR Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday asked why Prime Minister Narendra Modi was silent over his vote-theft allegation. Addressing a 'Samvidhan Samman Sammelan' organised during his Voter Adhikar Yatra in Motihari, East Champaran, Gandhi said that he had been making allegations of vote theft against Modi every day, but the PM was maintaining complete silence.

Gandhi then answered his own question, saying, "Modi is keeping quiet because I have caught his vote theft." He said that vote theft was an attack on the Constitution, and he would not allow it to happen. "Modi is scared as he knows that his vote theft has been caught, and now he cannot escape," he alleged. Gandhi went on to recall his exposé, saying, "I delve into any issue deeply. I will show that the vote theft was not only committed in Mahadevpura assembly constituency, a part of Bangalore Central Lok Sabha constituency, last time, but it happened in the last Lok Sabha election, Maharashtra, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, and now they (BJP) are trying to do it in Bihar. People of Bihar have shaken the confidence of Modi."

"I am getting calls from BJP MPs that I should not say Vote Chor. Now this arrow will hit the target," he added.

RJD leader Tejashwi Prasad Yadav claimed that the BJP was also trying to eliminate the identity of OBCs, EBCs, Dalits, Mahadalits, and Adivasis. He said that he was proud to be the son of RJD president Lalu Prasad, crediting him with bringing social awakening to the state. "What was the situation before 1990, how members from weaker castes were treated, but when Lalu came to power, nobody dared to mistreat them," he said.

"Now leaders from backward communities are becoming chief ministers, and the credit should go to Lalu for it. Nitish Kumar is the chief minister because of Lalu's struggles," he added. He also claimed that the upcoming assembly poll would be the last election for Nitish and that he would not become the chief minister again.

... EC clears decks for roll revision in Bengal

KAUSHIK PRADHAN & MUKESH RANJAN @Kolkata/New Delhi

IN what appears to be an indication of the immediate commencement of SIR (Special Intensive Revision) in West Bengal, the state administration has directed the appointment of electoral registration officers (EROs) and assistant electoral registration officers (AEROs) within 24 hours. The pending appointment of booth-level officers (BLOs) has also been asked to be completed within a specified timeframe.

The instructions to the state administration followed a letter from the Bengal Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Manoj Agarwal asking Chief Secretary Manoj Pant to fill up all vacant posts of EROs and AEROs.

According to sources at Nabanna, the state administrative headquarters, Agarwal also sent a letter to the district election officers (DEOs) or DMs (district magistrates) in this regard.

Recruitment of BLOs already under way

The process of booth-level officers (BLOs) recruitment is already under way. The pending work has to be completed by Friday. Incidentally, after the new arrangement, the number of about 80,000 polling booths will be increased to about 95,000 in West Bengal.

"The objective of these letters is to be ready for commencement of the SIR exercise in Bengal whenever the Election Commission of India (ECI) announces it, and that's why the Chief Secretary ordered to appoint all EROs and AEROs in a meeting with all DMs on Wednesday," a source revealed.

He said that the DMs were told that the ERO posts where there are officers of the rank of Deputy Magistrate should be changed. Generally, officers of the rank of SDO (sub-divisional officer) should be appointed as EROs. However, if an officer of that rank is not available, senior WBCS officers can be given the responsibility of ERO. Currently, 610 AERO posts are vacant. The recruitment for them has to be completed within the stipulated time.

The process of BLO recruitment is already underway. The pending work has to be completed by Friday. Incidentally, after the new arrangement, the existing 80,000 polling booths will increas to about 95,000 in West Bengal. As a result, even after that, 95,000 polling booths, recruitment for these posts as BLO supervisors, and 'reserves' will still need to be completed.

Meanwhile, with just four days left for the second phase of SIR of electoral rolls in Bihar to end, the main opposition in the state assembly RJD, entered the exercise process by filing three complaints among the total 1.95 lakh applications from voters, including 79 from CPI(ML) Liberation, the officials in the ECI said.

Of the total 1,95,802 applications received from individual voters by the ECI, 24,991 have already been disposed of by the EROs, they said, adding that the 'Claims and Objections' period, which opened on August 1, would remain active till September 1.

The officials said the CPI(ML) Liberation and the RJD are the only two political parties which have filed objections so far, submitting 82 complaints related to the draft rolls. Despite repeated appeals, other political parties have not actively engaged in the revision exercise, they further noted.

Since August 1, as many as 8,51,788 new electors who turned 18 after the launch of the SIR have applied for inclusion in the rolls and out of them, 37,050 forms have been disposed of by electoral registration officers, they said.

Russian missiles shatter peace push, hit Kyiv

19 dead, 48 injured as Russia launches 31 missiles at Kyiv; EU and UK condemn attack, while Ukraine urges UN action

KYIV

Firefighters work on the site of a burning building after a Russian attack in Kyiv, Ukraine | AP

RUSSIA launched a major air attack early on Thursday on Kyiv that included a rare strike on the city center, killing at least 19 people, wounding 48 and damaging European Union diplomatic offices, authorities said. The bombardment of drones and missiles was the first major Russian attack on Kyiv in weeks as US-led peace efforts to end the three-year war struggled to gain traction. Britain said the attack sabotaged peace efforts, while top EU diplomat Kaja Kallas summoned Russia's EU envoy to Brussels over the strikes that damaged EU offices.

Ukraine on Thursday requested an emergency meeting of the UN Security Council to discuss the overnight bombardment, while two of Ukraine's top envoys were set to meet Friday with the Trump administration regarding mediation.

The Kremlin said Russia remained interested in continuing peace talks despite the Thursday's air attack, which was one of the war's biggest since it began in 2022.

Among the dead were four children between 2 and 17, said Tymur Tkachenko, the head of Kyiv's city administration. The numbers were expected to rise. The attack was one of the few times Russian drones and missiles have penetrated the heart of Kyiv since the start of the full-scale invasion.

Ukraine's Air Force said Russia launched 598 strike drones and decoys and 31 missiles of different types across the country early on Thursday, most of them striking targets in Kyiv.

At least 33 locations across all 10 of the city's districts were directly hit or damaged by debris, Tkachenko said. Thousands of windows shattered as nearly 100 buildings were damaged, including a shopping mall in the city center.

European Commission President Ursula Von der Leyen said two strikes landed 20 seconds apart about 50 meters from the EU Mission to Ukraine building in Kyiv. She said no staff were injured in the strike. "No diplomatic mission should ever be a target. In response, we are summoning the Russian envoy in Brussels," Kaja Kallas, the European Union's top diplomat, said Thursday in a post on X. The British Council, which promotes cultural relations and educational opportunities, also said its Kyiv office had been "severely damaged" in the attack and was closed to visitors until further notice.

Thursday's attack is the first major combined Russian mass drone and missile attack to strike Kyiv since the United States President Donald Trump met with Putin in Alaska earlier this month to discuss ending the war in Ukraine. AP

Trump to overhaul H1B and Green Card programmes

NEW YORK

THE Trump administration is planning to change the H1B programme, the most sought after non-immigrant visa among Indian IT professionals, and also bring changes to the Green Card process, US Secretary of Commerce Howard Lutnick has said.

"I am involved in changing the H1B programme. We're going to change that programme, because that's terrible," Lutnick said in an interview to Fox News on Tuesday.

Donald Trump

He added that the Trump administration is also going to change the Green Card process that provides permanent residency in the US.

"You know, we give green cards. The average American makes USD 75,000 a year, and the average green card recipient USD 66,000, so we're taking the bottom quartile, like, why are we doing that? That's why Donald Trump is going to change it. That's the Gold Card that's coming. And we're going to start picking the best people to come into this country. It's time for that to change," he said. Indians are the main beneficiaries of the H-1B visas, which bring in the best of the talent and brains from across the world. Highly skilled professionals from India walk away with the overwhelming number of H-1B visas which is Congressional mandated 65,0000 every year and another 20,000 for those who received higher education from the US.

In a social media post on Tuesday, Lutnick said, "The current H1B visa system is a scam that lets foreign workers fill American job opportunities. Hiring American workers should be the priority of all great American businesses. Now is the time to hire American."

Florida Governor Ron DeSantis said in an interview to Fox News that the H1B has become a "total scam'.

'These companies game the system. You have some of these companies that are laying off large numbers of Americans while they're also getting new H1Bs and renewing H1Bs,' he said. DeSantis said that people used to say that America is getting the "cream of the crop' from all around the world through the H1B visa system.

"The reality is that's not actually what H1B are. Most of them are from one country, India. There's a cottage industry about how all that people make money off this system."

He said that in the current job market, young Americans are having a much tougher time because of what's happening with AI. PTI

Fed Governor sues Trump over her firing

WASHINGTON

FEDERAL Reserve Governor Lisa Cook has sued the Trump administration in an effort to overturn the president's attempt to fire her, launching an unprecedented legal battle that could significantly reshape the Fed's longstanding political independence.

The lawsuit seeks an emergency injunction to block her firing and "confirm her status" as a member of the Fed's governing board. "The President's effort to terminate a Senate-confirmed Federal Reserve Board member is a broadside attack on the century-old independence of the Federal Reserve System," Cook's lawyer, Abbe David Lowell, wrote in a court filing.

The case could become a turning point for the 112-year old Federal Reserve, which was designed by Congress to be insulated from day-to-day political influence.

Economists prefer independent central banks because they can more easily take unpopular measures, such as lifting interest rates to combat inflation, than elected officials can. The case was assigned to Judge Jia Cobb, an appointee of former President Joe Biden. A hearing was scheduled for Friday. Many economists worry that if the Fed falls under the control of the White House, it will keep its key interest rate lower than justified by economic fundamentals to satisfy Trump's demands for cheaper borrowing. AP

CDC director sacked after just one month in office

NEW YORK

THE director of the nation's top public health agency is out after less than one month in the job, and several top agency leaders have resigned.

"Susan Monarez is no longer director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. We thank her for her dedicated service to the American people," the US Department of Health and Human Services wrote in a social media post Wednesday. HHS officials did not explain why Monarez was no longer with the agency.

Before the department's late afternoon announcement, she told The Associated Press: "I can't comment." On Wednesday evening, her lawyers Mark Zaid and Abbe David Lowell issued a statement that said she had neither resigned nor been told she was fired.

"When CDC Director Susan Monarez refused to rubber-stamp unscientific, reckless directives and fire dedicated health experts, she chose protecting the public over serving a political agenda. For that, she has been targeted," the attorneys wrote. "This is not about one official. It is about the systematic dismantling of public health institutions, the silencing of experts, and the dangerous politicisation of science. The attack on Dr Monarez is a warning to every American: our evidence-based systems are being undermined from within," they said.

Her departure coincided with the resignations of at least three top CDC officials. The list includes Dr Debra Houry, the agency's deputy director; Dr. Daniel Jernigan, head of the agency's National Center for Emerging and Zoonotic Infectious Diseases; and Dr Demetre Daskalakis, head of its National Center for Immunisation and Respiratory Diseases. PTI

SNAPBACK

EU moves to revive UN nuke sanctions on Iran

DUBAI

FRANCE, Germany and the United Kingdom started a process Thursday to reimpose United Nations sanctions on Iran over its nuclear programme, further isolating Tehran after its 12-day war with Israel saw its atomic sites repeatedly bombed.

The mechanism, termed 'snapback' by the diplomats who negotiated it into Iran's 2015 nuclear deal with world powers, was designed to be veto-proof at the UN and is likely to go into effect. It would again freeze Iranian assets abroad, halt arms deals with Tehran and penalize any development of its ballistic missile program, among other measures, further squeezing the country's reeling economy. The European move starts a 30-day clock for the sanctions to return, a period that likely will see intensified diplomacy from Iran, whose refusal to cooperate with the International Atomic Energy Agency's inspectors started the crisis. The UN General Assembly in September will also likely see Iran as a top focus.

France and Germany's foreign ministers suggested they viewed 'snapback' as a way to spur negotiations with Tehran. "This measure does not signal the end of diplomacy: we are determined to make the most of the 30-day period that is now opening to engage in dialogue with Iran,' French Foreign Minister Jean-No'l Barrot wrote on the social platform X. Iran's Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi said in a statement that he decried the move as 'unjustified, illegal, and lacking any legal basis" in a call with his European counterparts. In the past, Iran has threatened to withdraw from the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty, potentially following North Korea, which abandoned the treaty in 2003 and then built atomic weapons. AP

Israel bombs Sanaa, escalates conflict with Houthis

Women protesters chant slogans as they gather with signs for an anti-Israel, anti-US, and pro-Palestinian rally organised by the staff and students of Sanaa University in Yemen's Huthi-controlled capital Sanaa | AFP

ISRAELI airstrikes rocked the Yemeni capital, Sanaa on Thursday, hitting the seat of the Houthi rebel group's rule in Yemen, the Houthis and the Israeli military said. The strikes hit the densely-populated southern and western areas of Sanaa. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

"It's like an earthquake," said Hussein Salem, a Sanaa resident. He saw plums of smoke over his neighborhood in the western side of Sanaa.

The strikes occurred as the Iranian-backed Houthis' satellite news channel was broadcasting a pre-recorded speech for the rebels' top leader Abdul-Malik al-Houthi.

The Israeli military said it hit a Houthi "military target" in Sanaa whithout offering futher details. Thursday's attack came after the Israeli military said early in the day that it intercepted a drone launched towards Israel by the rebels on Thursday, the third strike by Yemen on Israel in the past week. Thursday's strikes followed Israeli airstrikes Sanaa on Sunday, killing at least 10 people. The Israeli strikes hit an oil facility owned by Yemen's main oil company, which is controlled by the Houthis, a power plant and a military site in an area where the presidential palace is located, according to the Houthis and the Israeli military. The mechanism, known as "snapback," could freeze Iranian assets abroad, halt arms deals, and put renewed sanctions on its ballistic missile program. It is designed to be veto-proof at the UN and is likely to go into effect.

Iran condemned the European nations' move as "unjustified, illegal, and lacking any legal basis." The Houthis have launched missiles and drones toward Israel and targeted ships in the Red Sea throughout Israel's war against Hamas in Gaza.

In response to the Houthi attacks, Israel and a United States-led coalition pounded the rebels-held areas in Yemen, including Sanaa and the strategic coastal city of Hodeida, with heavy strikes for months. Israeli strikes knocked the Sanaa airport out of service in May. Meanwhile, the head of the UN's World Food Programme warned Thursday that famine-hit Gaza is "at breaking point", appealing for the urgent revival of its network of 200 food distribution points. AP/AFP

Trump gives $1.2B migrant camp deal

WASHINGTON: The Trump administration awarded a $1.2 billion contract to Acquisition Logistics LLC, a small Virginia firm with no prison experience, to build the nation's largest immigration detention center at Fort Bliss, Texas. The company, lacking a website and operating from a suburban home, outbid larger firms. The Pentagon gave no reason for choosing Acquisition Logistics, drawing a complaint. The secrecy underscores Trump's rush to expand detention for mass deportations.

Rivers burst banks in Pak Punjab, 15 dead, several stranded & homeless

NAROWAL

People wade through a flooded area along highway on the outskirts of Narowal | AP

RESCUERS in boats raced to reach stranded families in Pakistan's populous eastern Punjab province on Thursday, after three major rivers burst their banks because of heavy rain and the release of water from overflowing dams in neighboring India. The floods displaced nearly 250,000 people and officials said more than 1 million people were affected, with crops and businesses destroyed and many unable to leave their homes.

At least 15 people were killed a day earlier in Gujranwala district and nearby villages, according to police. Forecasters said more rain was expected Friday, after a two-day pause, and could continue into next week. Marriyum Aurangzeb, senior minister of Punjab province, said floods hit 1,432 villages located along the Ravi, Sutlej and Chenab rivers, affecting about 1.2 million people and displacing 248,000 others.

Nearly 700 relief and 265 medical camps have been set up in the flood-hit areas, she said, adding that food and other essential supplies are being delivered to flood-hit areas.

Floods have killed more than 800 people in Pakistan since late June. Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif said Pakistan is "among the countries most vulnerable to natural disasters" and ranks among the 10 most affected by climate change. "We must keep in mind that this trend will continue in the coming years. It now depends on us how we confront this challenge," he said after visiting flood-hit areas. AP

Mkt sheds 1,500 points, investors lose ₹10 lakh crore

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market experienced a significant sell-off following the Trump administration's imposition of an additional 25% tariff on Indian goods, raising the total levy to 50%. This move severely dampened sentiment, particularly for companies that derive a substantial portion of their revenue from the US.

The 50% duty on nearly $45 billion worth of exports is expected to adversely impact India's export economy and could lead to widespread job losses in key labour-intensive sectors such as textiles, gems and jewellery, and leather. The sentimental impact of this development is believed to be highly negative from the market perspective.

Equity market benchmark BSE Sensex has declined more than 1,500 points in two sessions with investors losing a massive ₹10 lakh crore. On Thursday, the Sensex ended at 80,080.57, down 706 points or 0.87%, while the NSE Nifty50 dropped 211 points or 0.85% to 24,500.90. Broader markets underperformed, with the Nifty MidCap and SmallCap indices declining 1.3% and 1.5%, respectively.

"Last two sessions' sharp decline can be attributed to the implementation of the high US tariff on Indian goods, which has heightened worries about India's export competitiveness and trade relations. While domestic institutional investors (DIIs) provided some support by stepping in as net buyers, the persistent FII outflows has amplified the impact of the US tariffs, leading to a broad-based selloff," said analysts at Bajaj Broking.

On the policy front, the government extended the import duty exemption on cotton until December, providing relief to the garment industry impacted by higher US tariffs

Siddhartha Khemka, Motilal Oswal

After losing ₹6 lakh crore in the previous trading session, investors lost ₹4 lakh crore on Thursday as the overall market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms dropped to ₹445 lakh crore from ₹449 lakh crore. The foreign institutional investors (FIIs) continued their rampant selling streak. After offloading equities worth ₹6,516 crore in the previous session, their net sales stood at ₹3,592.71 crore on Thursday.

"The steep US tariffs will hit India's textiles & apparel, gems & jewellery, marine (shrimp), leather & footwear, the hardest, given their heavy reliance on the U.S. market. On the policy front, the government extended the import duty exemption on cotton until December, providing relief to the garment industry impacted by higher US tariffs," said Siddhartha Khemka, head of research, Wealth Management, Motilal Oswal Financial Services.

'Hope GST on small cars will go down'

Maruti Suzuki said it is hopeful PM Modi's proposal will reduce the GST on small cars to 18%

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MSIL chairman Bhargava says it is a matter of happiness that the govt has recognised that there is a large number of consumers at the lower end

Maruti chairman says GST rate cut will lead to faster growth of car industry, generation of jobs

STARING AT RESPITE

Bhargava says rare earth magnet problem, caused by restrictions on supply by China, is a warning signal

Headed by finance minister, GST Council is likely to implement new tax slab in next couple of weeks

SMALL CARS ARE TAXED AT 28%, WHEREAS LARGE CARS (ABOVE 4 METRES IN LENGTH AND 1200CC IN ENGINE SIZE) ARE TAXED (INCLUDING CESS) IN 43-50% RANGE

My hope and expectation is that subject to approvals by the GST Council, we will see a revival of small car market

RC Bhargava, chairman, Maruti

THE country's largest carmaker, Maruti Suzuki India (MSIL), said it is hopeful that the Prime Minister's proposal will reduce the GST on small cars to 18%. MSIL chairman RC Bhargava said it is a matter of happiness that the government has recognised that there are a large number of consumers at the lower end of the market, and they need some help in these difficult times.

"We have talked in the past about concerns about growth rate of car industry. I won't dwell on this any further because I need to or we all need to see what the consequences of new GST would be and how it will help revive car market. My hope and my expectation are that subject to approvals by the GST Council, we will see a revival of small car market" said Bhargava during MSIL's 44th annual general meeting.

The Goods and Services Tax (GST) Council will meet for a two-day session starting September 3. Headed by finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman, the Council is expected to implement the new tax slab in the next couple of weeks.

Currently, vehicles are taxed under multiple slabs combining GST and cess. Small cars are taxed at 28%, whereas large cars (above 4 metres in length and 1200cc in engine size) are taxed (including cess) in the range of 43-50%.

He stated that the GST rate cut will lead to an overall faster growth of the car industry and they will see more industrial activity and a larger generation of employment opportunities. "I think all of this is needed in the coming times when the talent problems are creating a different situation in other parts of the economy," said Bhargava.

Bhargava stated that the rare earth magnet problem, caused by restrictions on its supply by China, is a warning signal to us. "It also seems that with government intervention the problem is likely to be solved shortly. Our government has entered into a landmark free trade agreement with the United Kingdom, and this could form a template for future agreements," he stated.

He added that US President Donald Trump has, in many ways, forced nations to think as beyond conventional policies and relationships, the use of tariffs in diplomacy is being seen for the first time. "Our tariff rates have gone up to 50% and I believe it is our duty as Indians to do our best to support the government and maintain our dignity and respect and not give in to any kind of bullying in this matter," he said.

With Orbiter, TVS sees bigger pie in e-2W mkt

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TVS Motor Company is eyeing to consolidate its leadership position in the fast-growing electric two-wheeler market with the launch of its second battery-powered e-scooter Orbiter. The new product, which comes at a price range of ₹99,900 (ex-showroom), will initially be launched in Bengaluru and then retailed across major markets.

"We are expecting to strengthen our position in the EV category, which is growing at a rate of 20% year-on-year," said Gaurav Gupta, president, India two-wheeler business, TVS Motor Company. The Chennai-based automaker is currently number one electric two-wheeler manufacturer in India and has been clocking sales of 20,000 plus units on a monthly basis. Data from Vahan shows that out of the total 102,973 electric two-wheeler sales in July, TVS Motor sold 22,256 units. Bajaj Auto came in second spot with 19,669 units. TVS also competes with the likes of Hero MotoCorp, Ather Energy and Ola Electric.

July industrial output growth up 3.5% on manufacturing

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

Softening of exports

Consumption-oriented sectors grew due to domestic and export performance, says Dipti Deshpande, principal economist, Crisil. She cautions coming months could see some softening of these exports

INDIA'S industrial output, measured by Index of Industrial Production (IIP), grew 3.5% in July 2025, up from 1.5% in June, as per data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation on Thursday. Manufacturing led the recovery with a growth of 5.4%, while electricity rose marginally by 0.6%. Mining contracted sharply by 7.2%.

As per experts, the bump up in Industrial output in June could be a result of sectors ramping up production and exports expecting tariff hikes by the US. They say the government's infrastructure push continues to be supportive as well. Within manufacturing, 14 of 23 industry groups registered growth. The top contributors were basic metals (12.7%), electrical equipment (15.9%), and other non-metallic mineral products (9.5%). Strong demand for items like mild steel products, switchgear, circuit breakers, transformers, and cement supported the uptick.

On a use-based classification, infrastructure and construction goods posted the strongest growth at 11.9%, followed by consumer durables (7.7%) and intermediate goods (5.8%). Capital goods grew by 5%, while consumer non-durables edged up by 0.5%. Primary goods contracted 1.7%.

"Infrastructure and construction recorded strongest IIP growth (11.9% in July vs 6.7% in June) among major use-based sectors. This reflects frontloading of the Centre and state government's capex mainly on infrastructure," says Dipti Deshpande, principal economist, Crisil Ltd.

Consumption-oriented sectors grew due to domestic and export performance, says Deshpande. However, she cautions the coming months could see some softening of these exports, weighed by higher US tariffs and from slower growth with trade partners. "This postponement of discretionary purchases along with the disruptive monsoon rainfall in some regions over the last few weeks could contain the IIP growth sub-3% in August 2025," said Aditi Nayar, chief economist, ICRA Ltd.

India's first chip pilot inaugurated in Gujarat

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

MINISTER of Electronics and Information Technology Ashwini Vaishnaw on Thrusday inaugurated the country's first end-to-end Semiconductor OSAT (outsourced semiconductor assembly and test) pilot line facilities at Sanand, Gujarat, established by CG Power.

Speaking at the event, Vaishnaw said that the inauguration of this pilot line represents a decisive step toward realising India's ambition of developing a robust semiconductor ecosystem encompassing design, manufacturing, and downstream capabilities.

The minister highlighted the critical importance of the OSAT pilot line, explaining that the chips manufactured here will be used for customer qualification. Once these chips are approved, it will significantly streamline the process for commercial units to commence full-scale production of qualified semiconductor products. He noted that this inauguration is one of the most important milestones under the India Semiconductor Mission, which has approved ten projects to date.

"Pilot line is very important because pilot line whatever production we do that will be used for qualifying to the customers. And once the chips are qualified, then it becomes very important, very easy for the commercial plants to start production of those qualified products. That's why this pilot line was very important," said Vaishnaw.

Underscoring the need for a strong talent pipeline, Vaishnaw pointed out that one of the major goals of the India Semiconductor Mission is to develop a global pool of skilled semiconductor professionals.

UCL draw: Holders PSG get tough opponents

Paris Saint-Germain was handed a tough start to the defense of its Champions League title with games against Bayern Munich and Barcelona and Thursday's league phase draw also served up opponents from England and Spain from the pot of lowest-ranked teams. PSG's easiest opponents, in theory, will be Newcastle and Athletic Bilbao.

Sindhu pulls rabbit out of hat

Five-time Worlds medallist rolls back clock to oust World No. 2; one win away from medal

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

> I always focussed on the way I was training, focussing on the mistakes that I was making in the past. I was working on them. Coming into the tournament, I was thinking that just one match mattered. It's just one match at a time for me. — PV Sindhu

GUTS, glory and a potential story of redemption. PV Sindhu, after displaying signs of retracing her old spirit and skills on the court, is on the verge of making history. Just a few days ago, it was was deemed beyond the realms of possibility by many. And rightly so. Sindhu, despite having won many wars over the course of her decorated career, had shown her mortality since 2024.

Going into the ongoing World Championships, an event she has had many engaging battles over the years, she was clearly lacking ideas inside the court. Four days into the event, Sindhu is now the main talking point for many as she did the unthinkable by outsmarting World No 2 Wang Zhi Yi of China in their women's singles Round of 16 tie at the Adidas Arena in Paris. Sindhu matched Wang stroke-for-stroke and stood firm at the business end to complete a memorable win. After this feat, Sindhu, who boasts five medals at the Worlds, is now one step away from adding to her medals tally. World No 9 Putri Kusuma Wardani stands between the Indian ace and a bronze medal (at the very least).

Sindhu had stunned her earlier-round opponents by stepping up in crunch situations and taking the game away from them. Both Kaloyana Nalbantova (Sindhu's Rd 1 opponent) and Karupathevan Letshanna (Rd 2) learnt that the hard way. But what unfolded on Thursday was mighty special. Wang, her opponent, has been a complete contrast to Sindhu as compared to Sindhu and has been one of the shuttlers who has constantly challenged for podium finishes. Conscious of Wang's potential threat, Sindhu later said that she had entered the event with a singular mindset of fighting for every point.

"Well, for me, it was like any other player. The World Championships, from the first round, it's never easy. You have to fight for every point, every rally. Of course, Wang Zhi is a top athlete, she has had a good run. I was not keeping that in mind and it was a fresh match. I have played with her in the past and we have had 2-2 wins each. So I had to be consistent and keep the shuttle in the court because I knew that there will be long rallies and it will be a long match," Sindhu said during the post-match interaction. Sindhu had her nose in front at the early stages but Zhang showed why she is regarded as one of the best in the business at the elite level. Zhang, who likes dictating the flow of the game, tested Sindhu throughout the game but Sindhu said she was ready for all forms of challenges during the tie.

"I was prepared for everything, prepared for long rallies and also she changes the speed, she was playing those long rallies and hitting those half-smashes. So I was ready for it. Coming back to the speed, it was important for me to be on my toes as she has those surprise shots, when she plays those cross-shots or gives those really deep half-smashes."

SatChi beat Oly medallists

Later, Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty secured a spot in the men's doubles quarterfinals with a win over Paris Games silver medallists Liang Wei Keng and Wang Chang. The Indian pair won 19-21, 21-15, 21-17.

Dhruv-Tanisha in quarters

It was also a notable day for India's mixed doubles pairing of Dhruv Kapila and Tanisha Crasto, who pulled off an upset win over Hong Kong's Tang Chun Man and Tse Ying Suet 19-21, 21-12, 21-15 in their Round of 16 meeting. Meanwhile, it was a case of so close, yet so far for HS Prannoy. Prannoy brought his A-game to the fore but fell just short against World No 2 Anders Antonsen in their men's singles battle.

Neeraj manages 84.35 throw, Weber leads DL 2025 final

CHENNAI: Conditions looked ideal for a big throw, but for multiple Olympic and world championships medallist Neeraj Chopra did not have the best start to the Diamond League final in Zurich on Thursday. His first throw yielded 84.35m which was way behind Germany's Julian Webber who managed a monstrous 91.37m in his first attempt. Neeraj, who might be competing in his last major event before the World Championships in Tokyo next month, did not seem in his elements in the first three rounds. Though Neeraj struggled, Webber continued with his throws and touched 91.51m. Keshorn Walcott, London Olympic gold medallist, threw 84.95m in the first attempt and led Neeraj. (*Two rounds left)

ASIA CUP: FULTON'S INDIA START FAVOURITES BUT FACE JEOPARDY

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Chennai

- Pool A: India, China, Japan & Kazakhstan.
- Pool B: Bangladesh, Chinese Taipei, Malaysia & South Korea.
- India's pool schedule: August 29— vs. China; August 31 — vs Japan; September 1 vs Kazakhstan

OVER the last 18 months or so, ever since Craig Fulton took charge of the Indian men's hockey side, progress has been tangible. Sure, they have had big losses but the one thing the players repeatedly did well was to bounce back with improved performances.

Lost a big game? They would quietly buckle down to win the next big game. Had a questionable refereeing decision go against them? Fuel that injustice to fightback. Lose a senior player to injury or have some concerns over form? Somebody else would pop up with a performance.

That's generally been the story of Fulton's India. Just finding a way. It's why the upcoming Asia Cup in Rajgir, beginning from Friday, promises to be a fascinating new chapter for this team and support staff. For, over the last few months, the hockey players haven't found a way. If they have cleared one roadblock in front of them, they have pretty much hit the next one and collapsed. There's two ways to look at their Pro League results from the Summer when they lost seven on the bounce before breaking that rut with a 4-3 win over Belgium to round out their league fixtures for the season. They finished second from bottom, 18 points, 18 adrift of Netherlands, eventual champions.

The Pro League offers the team a great avenue to play high quality opponents on a yearly basis but the jeopardy isn't there. Sure, you can be relegated but you have to be really, really bad to be relegated (Ireland, who were relegated this year, had four points). So it gives the team management a degree of freedom in terms of blooding youngsters, trialling tactical systems and experimenting new set plays.

But you also want to win matches, matches against top teams. Something India haven't done an awful lot of in the recent past. It's kind of reflected in their ranking (No. 7). If they don't move up a few rungs, they may get a bad draw at next year's World Cup if they qualify for it. Which is why the Asia Cup is an important event as it acts as a qualifier for the World Cup. India will be aiming for one and done — win the Asia Cup to seal their place in Belgium and Netherlands next year. If they fail to do so, they will face the added pressure of featuring in a qualifying tournament later on.

INDIAN FOOTBALL CRISIS

AIFF may initiate open tender process for ISL

CHANDRA PRABHU @Chennai

THERE seems to be some light at the end of the tunnel for Indian football. At least on paper. The country's premier football league — Indian Super League — is likely to start this December if everything goes off well. The All India Football Federation (AIFF) and its commercial partner Football Sports Development Limited (FSDL) have jointly submitted a proposal to the Supreme Court on Thursday, in a bid to resume the 2025-26 ISL season. According to the proposal, the FSDL is ready to let go of the commercial rights to organise and manage the ISL. However, this doesn't indicate that FSDL will be out of AIFF.

As per the proposal submitted to the court, the AIFF will initiate an open, competitive and transparent tendering process to find a new commercial partner. Days after the SC allowed talks to continue, senior AIFF officials met with FSDL representatives in Bengaluru on August 25.

The joint submission of AIFF-FSDL to SC touched upon starting the season with the Super Cup. "To ensure the timely commencement of the football calendar and to maintain competitive continuity, it has been agreed that the 2025–26 season may begin with the Super Cup or another domestic competition directly under AIFF's control, after an adequate pre-season period," said the submission.

What seems to be of importance is "Transparent Process for Grant of Commercial Rights." The submission said that AIFF has agreed to conduct an open tender. "It will conduct a competitive and transparent tender (or equivalent process) for selection of a commercial partner to conduct the ISL in line with global best practices. Such process will be conducted in conformity with the National Sports Development Code 2011, the National Sports Governance Act 2025, the AIFF Constitution, and applicable FIFA/Asian Football Confederation ("AFC") regulations," said the submission. The process may be managed by an independent agency and will be concluding by October 15.

"The FSDL on its part has agreed to waive off its contractual Right of First Negotiation and Right to Match under the Master Rights Agreement dated 08 December 2010 ('MRA')," said the document.

This was confirmed by M Satyanarayan, Deputy Secretary General of the AIFF.

ON a placid wicket at Murugappa Ground during the third round of All India Buch Babu Invitation Tournament on Wednesday, Maharashtra pacer Ramakrishna Ghosh claimed four wickets — two batters were bowled through the gate while one was trapped before the stumps — to bundle out Himachal Pradesh for 239 runs.

The right-arm medium pacer bowled 16 overs during Himachal Pradesh's first innings on the surface where other fast bowlers preferred not to bowl. But that's what he loves to do — extract something from the wicket not offering any assistance to the pacers.

"It's important to be disciplined on surfaces like this as it's a good wicket for batters," the Chennai Super Kings pacer, who was acquired for his base price of ₹30 lakh for the 2025 season, told this daily. The 28-year-old fast bowling all-rounder said such wickets help bowlers get ready for tournaments like Ranji Trophy.

Ghosh might not have got a game in the 2025 IPL but gained a lot just by spending time with legends of the game including former India captain MS Dhoni. "During nets, I used to overdo a few things but Dhoni bhai said I should prepare a plan and go about in a structured manner. He said hard work is important but working smart is better. He also asked me to improve my batting if I can do it. I didn't have a lot of interactions with him but whatever we had, he said I have to manage things smartly. He said I have to find ways how I can perform better with my skill set," remembered Ghosh. He was effervescent in his praise for the five-time champions and said the team is all about positivity.

Patidar, Malewar slam tons for Central Zone

ENS/AGENCIES

Central Zone's Rajat Patidar scored 125 runs off just 96 balls on Thursday | PTI

VIDARBHA'S Ranji Trophy hero Danish Malewar and Rajat Patidar made a mockery of a below-par North East Zone attack with respective tons as Central Zone raced to 432 for 2 in 77 overs before rain stopped play on the opening day of the Duleep Trophy quarter-final, here on Thursday.

The 21-year-old Malewar, who scored a ton in the Ranji Trophy final last season, was on a career-best 198 not out while RCB's IPL winning skipper Patidar was more belligerent of the two in his 96-ball-125 on a day when they hit 56 boundaries between them. Malewar, closing in on his maiden first-class double hundred, cracked 35 fours apart from a six while Patidar hit 21 fours and three maximums. While Shubman Gill was already ruled out after a battle with viral fever, East Zone's captain for first match Abhimanyu Easwaran caught the flu and missed the match. Dhruv Jurel, the named captain of Central Zone, missed the match due to groin injury.

BRIEF SCORES: Central Zone 432/2 in 77 overs (Dinesh Malewar 198 batting, Rajat Patidar 125) vs North East Zone; North Zone 308/6 in 75.2 ovs (Badoni 63, Manishi 3/90, Shami 1/55) vs East Zone.

Didn't feel secure: Vijay Shankar on leaving TN

GOMESH S @Chennai

VIJAY Shankar vividly remembers the day he first got the Tamil Nadu cap from L Balaji 13 years ago. It was the 2012 Ranji Trophy clash against Vidarbha and Vijay Shankar made his first-class debut for his state as a 22-year-old and went on to score an unbeaten 63 in the first innings. After more than a decade of playing for the state and multiple domestic white-ball titles, that continues to remain his most memorable moment.

Which is why, when he had to take a call about moving on from his home state and representing Tripura in the upcoming season, it was not easy. The India international feels he was "forced to" take a call after having to constantly prove his place in the team and fight for opportunities at this stage of his career. In the end, it all came down to him wanting some clarity on where he stands and having the chance to play the sport. "I've played almost 20 — from U-13 — I can say 23 years for Tamil Nadu. Since 2011, I've been part of the first-class team. So, definitely, it was not an easy call. But, sometimes when you're forced to take that call, you need to move on and look out for opportunities. I think I have been playing well and more importantly, I want to play cricket, that's it. I can't go out there and just sit out and give some water. It's quite difficult after playing for so many years," he said, days after moving to Tripura.

The 34-year-old said that he did not feel secure and lack of clarity from the selectors meant he had to take a fresh challenge. Vijay Shankar scored 476 runs in 11 innings in the last edition of Ranji, including two centuries, after missing the first couple of games. "Last year, I got dropped for the first two Ranji games, and then I made a comeback. In the Syed Mushtaq Ali, again, I was dropped for the last two games. After that, it was quite tough. This year, I thought things would be fine since I did well. You need some clarity at some point. I was not getting that," he said. "Except for TNCA officials I never got any secure feeling when it comes to the selectors or whoever was there. At one point, I needed to take a call. I was happy that at least our coach (M Senthilnathan) came up and told what they (the selectors) were thinking. I felt that there was no point staying, trying to fight it out to play in this setup was quite difficult," he added.

Google to make one in-person interview mandatory for some roles

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

GOOGLE is changing the way it hires new employees. Its CEO Sundar Pichai has announced that the company will now follow a hybrid hiring process. This means some interviews will still happen online, but at least one round of in-person interviews will now be required for certain roles.

Why is Google doing this?

Pichai explained that meeting candidates face-to-face gives both sides a better experience. For job seekers, it helps them understand Google's work culture. For Google, it makes it easier to judge whether someone really has the required skills. This is especially important for jobs that involve practical tasks, such as coding. He said, "We are making sure we'll introduce at least one round of in-person interviews for people, just to make sure the fundamentals are there."

Online interviews

Online interviews will not disappear. In fact, they have been useful for Google because they save time. Previously, Brian Ong, Google's vice-president of recruiting, said online interviews helped reduce the hiring process by almost two weeks. However, he admitted that virtual interviews sometimes lack the "authentic feel" of a face-to-face discussion. Ong also pointed out that with AI tools becoming more common, Google needs to rethink how interviews are conducted to ensure fairness.

How people cheat

Online interviews have made hiring faster and easier, but they also opened the door for new kinds of cheating. Companies like Google have noticed that some candidates misuse technology or take unfair shortcuts to clear interviews. Using AI and Online Tools

One common trick is using AI tools like ChatGPT or Gemini. Candidates may keep another computer or phone nearby, quickly type in the interview question, and read out the AI's answer. In coding interviews, tools like GitHub Copilot can even generate complete code instantly, making it look like the candidate wrote it themselves.

Proxy interviews

In some cases, the real applicant doesn't even attend the interview. Instead, they pay a skilled person or ask a friend to take it for them. Sometimes, the helper sits off-camera, whispering answers, or gives instructions through a hidden earpiece.

Accessing leaked questions

Another method is preparing from old interview questions shared online. Candidates memorise the answers, so when the same question appears, they give a polished response without actually understanding the problem.

These tricks may help someone clear the interview, but companies quickly spot such patterns. That's why firms like Google now insist on at least one in-person interview to ensure fairness.

REALME TO FOCUS ON STRENGTHENING BRAND AND SALES CHANNELS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

REALME, once among the top-selling smartphone brands in India, is now grappling with shrinking market share. In an interaction with Rakesh Kumar of TNIE, Francis Wong, Chief Marketing Officer of Realme India, talks about the company's strategy to expand beyond its online-first roots and strengthen its offline presence. Excerpts:

● With Realme's market share falling from 13% to 10% year-on-year in Q2 2025, what steps are you taking to regain ground?

We are not overly concerned about market share right now. Our priority is to ensure our product strategies meet the demands of both online and offline channels while maintaining healthy margins. Realme was largely perceived as an online brand, but to succeed in the long run, we need strength in both channels.

As Realme shifts more towards offline and achieves stable growth there, the next step is for our P series to fight back in our online stronghold. That's why you saw aggressive pricing for the P4 series—it achieved 250% higher sales compared to the P3. Market share, we believe, will naturally follow once the channel strategy is executed right.

● How is Realme planning growth across different price segments—budget, mid-range, mid-premium, and premium? Which segments are performing well?

We are already leading in the budget smartphone category and are among the top in the mid-range. Below ₹25,000, Realme continues to be a preferred choice for consumers. For smartphones priced above ₹25,000, we still need to strengthen both the brand and sales channels. Our Number Pro and GT series will be key here. Our immediate focus is on the ₹25,000–₹35,000 mid-premium segment, where we see strong growth potential.

● Who is Realme's core target audience in India today?

Realme is a youth-centric brand with a strong community base. Specifically, the P series is designed for college students, the Number series for early-career professionals, and the GT series for more mature working professionals.

Francis Wong, Chief Marketing Officer, Realme India

● How does Realme plan to strengthen its premium segment? Also, since every brand is pushing AI features, what unique approach is Realme taking?

The premium segment is heavily dependent on brand preference, which takes time to build. Our first priority is to continue innovating with the GT series, which has introduced several industry-first technologies, such as the Paper Design, the world's fastest 320W charging, and the world's brightest display.

By the end of this year, we will launch the GT 8 Pro, featuring a groundbreaking design that we believe will impress the industry.

The second priority is software. We recently extended our Software Update Policy for the Number and P series to 3 years of major updates and 4 years of security updates.

On AI, our strength lies in speed and differentiation. Features such as AI Schedule Planner, AI Edit Genie, and AI Gaming Couch were industry-firsts. The P4 series alone comes with 18 AI features in one device. While we may not have the largest AI R&D setup, we are the fastest in making AI accessible, focusing on three core areas: AI Gaming, AI Camera, and AI Efficiency.

● With the festive season around the corner, what are your expectations? Do you see Realme boosting sales and regaining market share during this period?

We are investing over ₹600 crore in festive offers this Diwali. Our major launches are already out—the 15 series in July and the P series in August—giving us time to gather user feedback and build momentum. We are confident of strong festive sales.

Beyond numbers, we also want to connect emotionally with consumers. Our festive marketing theme is "real moments, real happiness," celebrating family and togetherness during India's most important festival season.

● Is Realme focusing more on offline or online marketing? Which channel is performing better, and where do you see further expansion?

Our channel mix is now balanced. Earlier, it was 70% online and 30% offline. Over the past two years, we deliberately expanded offline, creating jobs and investments in the process. Today, our ratio stands at 50:50. The Number series is our offline hero, while the P series leads online. Both are equally important, and we aim to sustain this healthy balance while driving overall growth.

● India is strongly promoting local manufacturing. What is Realme's contribution, and do you plan to scale it up further?

Every smartphone we sell in India is already made in India—that has been our practice for years.

Now, even AIoT products like our earbuds are 100% Made in India. Over the past five years, we've built a strong local supply chain with manufacturers and suppliers, and we will continue strengthening it.

STRONG DEMAND FOR USED PHONES IN TIER 2 & 3 CITIES. ₹ 10K–25K SWEET SPOT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

India's used smartphone market is witnessing rapid growth, with smaller towns becoming the main demand drivers. According to OLX India, Tier 2 and Tier 3 cities are at the centre of this change, recording 16% and 15% demand growth, respectively. This shows that affordable, good-quality pre-owned devices are now the first choice for value-conscious buyers outside metro cities.

"India's used smartphone market is evolving rapidly. Tier 2 and 3 cities, where OLX demand grew +16% and +15% are leading this shift, with devices becoming gateways to connectivity, learning, and opportunity. The surge in demand for the ₹10K–25K price segment alone has grown 20%, with ASPs now at ₹20K, highlighting how value-conscious buyers are opting for finding great quality used mobiles on OLX, without the need to overspend on a new phone," said Olive Sen, CBO, Horizontal Business Unit, OLX India.

₹10K–25K emerges as most popular segment

One of the key trends on OLX is the rise of the ₹10,000–25,000 price band, which has become the most popular segment for buyers. This range alone has grown by 20%, with the average selling price (ASP) now at ₹20,000. The data shows a clear shift towards higher-value second-hand smartphones, as buyers look for better quality without overspending on new devices.

REGIONAL AND BRAND TRENDS

- Among Indian states, Uttar Pradesh and Maharashtra have emerged as the biggest demand centres, while Tamil Nadu has shown slower growth.
- Brand-wise, iPhone, Samsung, and Vivo continue to dominate OLX's platform, together recording 13–20% demand growth across major price segments.
- iPhone remains the top choice in the ₹10K–25K category, appealing to aspirational buyers who prefer a mix of affordability and brand value.
- Samsung has maintained steady demand in the ₹25K–50K range, showing strong traction in the mid-premium segment.
- Vivo has emerged as the overall category leader, supported by its popularity among younger buyers.

Google Translate adds AI features for real-time conversations, language practice

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

GOOGLE has introduced new AI-powered features in its Translate app to make conversations more natural and help people learn languages with confidence. The company says people translate nearly 1 trillion words every month across Google Translate, Search, Lens, and Circle to Search. With its advanced Gemini AI models, Google is now taking translation beyond simple word conversion to real-time conversation and personalised learning.

Talk in real time

The Translate app now allows users to have live back-and-forth conversations in over 70 languages, including Hindi, Tamil, Arabic, French, Korean, and Spanish. To use the feature, users can open the app on Android or iOS, tap "Live translate," select the languages, and start speaking. The app instantly shows translations on screen and plays them aloud.

Thanks to Google's advanced speech recognition, the app can detect pauses, accents, and tones, making conversations flow smoothly. It also works in noisy environments like airports or cafés, where multiple voices can make translation difficult. This feature is now available for users in the US, India, and Mexico.

Practise and learn

Another big update is a practice mode designed for language learners. The app can create personalized speaking and listening exercises based on a learner's goals and skill level. Beginners can start with simple conversations, while advanced users can practise for travel, work, or daily interactions. The practice sessions, developed with the help of language experts, adapt to progress and track improvement over time. For now, this feature is being rolled out in beta for English speakers learning Spanish and French, and for Spanish, French, and Portuguese speakers learning English.

AI breaking barriers

Google says these updates highlight how AI can break down language barriers and make communication easier worldwide. By combining reasoning, translation, and speech technology, Translate is evolving into a smarter companion that not only translates words but also helps people connect and learn.
